Defense Plant Ruined

The possibility of sabotage was being investigated today by Irvington, N. J., police after fire swept through the Barnett Foundry and Machine Co. plant in that city, leaving this scene of devastation. Damage to the plant, which has been engaged under sub-contract in the manufacture of defense material, was estimated at well over the $1,000,000 mark. James Andreas is shown amid the ruins looking for usable patterns which might have been spared by the flames.

NAZI BOMBS RIP GLASGOW AREA

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—Large forces of German bombers blasted at the great Glasgow shipbuilding center, the port of Liverpool and an unidentified northeast town last night, writing a blazing new chapter in the Battle of Britain as the RAF continued a stepped-up offensive by striking again at Hamburg.

HOT AIR TURNS TRICK—A portable hot air unit devised by the Nazis to warm up airplane motors is shown in operation at a German airport . . . a clever stunt to save valuable gas and oil. A huge bomber is getting the treatment.

Shipping Aid Most Urgent, Britain Says

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—Britain asked quick help from the United States to bolster her merchant marine in a statement issued today at 10 Downing st.

The statement said Prime Minister Churchill was sending Sir Arthur Salter, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of shipping, to the United States immediately to work out details of aid to shipping. "In no sphere of our war effort is the help which the United States can give us under the lend-lease legislation more urgent than that of shipping," it said. A mission under Robert H. Brand also is to go to the United States to arrange for foodstuffs.

The statement explained that Churchill was sending Sir Arthur to the United States "to discuss with the United States Administration various forms their help might take" in solving shipping problems, and added:

"It will also be necessary for the representative of His Majesty's Government to discuss with the United States Administration an arrangement whereby foodstuffs will be made available to this country under lease-lend arrangements."

"The minister of food has asked the Hon. Robert H. Brand to undertake this task and to be head of a small mission which he is sending to the United States."

QUICK VICTORY SEEN

A British victory "will not only be certain—it will be quick," if the Empire can hold on until American aid is received, First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander declared today.

"You can not win this national struggle except on the basis of 100 per cent national co-operation," Alexander told a Parliament press luncheon.

"We are facing perhaps the most crucial stage of the war in which the navy is called upon to play a very important part."

Minister of Shipping Ronald H. Cross told the Engineers Institute: "I say frankly we are going to be faced with a really hard struggle at sea this year."

The House of Commons heard a confidential report on the shipping situation in secret session yesterday.

It was the first time the Germans had attacked the big shipyards along the Clyde river on a large scale since the start of the war.

The raid on Liverpool was the second in as many nights.

The all-out attack on Glasgow may indicate a decided change in Nazi strategy. Hitherto, Hitler's raiding planes have avoided Glasgow and the other big shipbuilding centers, the supposition being that the Fuehrer believed an early victory over Britain was in store and that when it came, he would be able to take over the vast shipbuilding industry intact, including ships already built and building. Last night's events indicate that perhaps he has been forced to revamp his plans.—Editor's Note.

13 MORE NAZIS DOWNED

Attacking with a fury unequalled since the early winter, the Nazis also hammered at London and fanned out over the country to bomb widely scattered points. The British claimed, however, that the raids had cost the German 13 planes, bringing the total Nazi losses to 25 aircraft since nightfall Wednesday.

It was the best record Britain's defenses against night bombing have scored since hostilities began. Eight of the planes were credited to British night fighters, one to anti-aircraft guns and two to "means not yet specified."

The government acknowledged the assault on the Glasgow area was "heavy and prolonged, some industrial buildings and houses were damaged" and a number of fires started, all of which were said to have been extinguished or brought under control before dawn.

CASUALTY LISTS SMALL

"The number of casualties, though serious, is not thought to be heavy," a communique said.

Damage in Liverpool and the northeast town which shared the brunt of the overnight assault was said to have been limited largely to residential areas. Casualties in both places were described official.

PRESIDENT TO TELL AID AIMS OVER RADIO TOMORROW NIGHT

WASHINGTON, March 14 (INS)—President Roosevelt, speaking over all radio chains, will address the nation from 9:30 to 10 p. m. (Boston time) tomorrow on his aims under the lend-lease program, it was announced at the White House today.

Mr. Roosevelt will deliver the address as a guest at the annual dinner of the White House Correspondents' Ass'n.

In his immediate audience will be not only the Washington correspondents, but most of the nation's leading editors and publishers; Lord Halifax, the British ambassador; Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 Republican presidential nominee; members of the Supreme Court; Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet and other high governmental and diplomatic officials.

AUSSIES IN SINGAPORE—In Singapore in answer to Jap threats in the direction of the Dutch East Indies, Australian soldiers line up at station to await trains to take them to posts in the Malay Peninsula.

F. D. Silent on Aid Already Sent Britain

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt today at his press conference chose to remain indefinite on questions of the specific nature of war supplies that have been or will be sent to Britain under the provisions of the lend-lease bill.

In response to questions he said there had been no decision on transferring additional naval craft of any type. As for cargo vessels, he said this country had none available for transfer.

Secretary Stimson earlier told reporters some defense material to be transferred to Great Britain already had started to its destination.

For the moment, the Secretary of War withheld details.

"The information will come out in due time," Mr. Stimson told a press conference. "As far as I am concerned no details will be disclosed prematurely. I don't think it would be fair to Great Britain."

DENIES 100 WARSHIP PLAN

Asked about printed reports that approximately 100 naval ships of various types, including torpedo boats, destroyers built more than 20 years ago and old submarines, would be turned over to the British, Mr. Roosevelt said they were entirely inaccurate.

He said there had been no consideration given to types or numbers of ships, although that did not mean that in the future some war vessels might not be transferred to Britain.

The President said Springfield rifles were not included in the first

FLAVOR THAT'S "BORN" IN BRICK OVENS

Friends BAKED BEANS

Film Actress Ellen Drew (here) announces in Hollywood that "some-time this summer" she and Si Bartlett, movie writer, will be joined in matrimony. It will be the second marriage for both... Miss Drew having been married to Fred Wallace, from whom she was divorced a year ago, while Bartlett is the former husband of Alice White, silent screen star.

Balm Award Of $20,000 To Divorcee

In a sealed verdict, opened today, a Superior Court jury awarded $20,000 damages to Mrs. Cecil R. Patterson, Boston and Cleveland divorcee—or 10 per cent of the $200,000 she asked in her breach of promise suit against Vernal E. Clem.

Mrs. Patterson was present, but Clem, elderly Jamaica Plain dairy executive, was not in the courtroom when the verdict, arrived at last night and sealed, was opened before Judge Fred-eric B. Greenhalge.

When Mrs. Patterson heard the verdict, she smiled broadly, and then said, out in the corridor:

"I knew all along that I would win. I'm so pleased that I don't know what to do. I could even shake hands with myself."

And, to prove it, she did shake hands with herself, while cameramen took her picture. Then she went away on the arm of her attorney, Joseph Schneider.

The jury took the case at 11:55 a. m. yesterday and were still deliberating when Judge Greenhalge closed court at 4 p. m. and instructed them to leave the verdict sealed if they reach an agreement before court convened today.

At the time the stylishly-gowned, 46-year-old plaintiff was in the court room, expectantly awaiting the jury's verdict in her love suit against Clem, wealthy 63-year-old dairy executive.

In final arguments Clem was depicted as "a pretty decent sort of chap" by his counsel, Atty. James M. Graham, who declared that Mrs. Patterson "had her teeth cut" long before she met the wealthy defendant.

Declaring the plaintiff had failed to produce a single witness to testify Clem offered to marry her, Graham asserted:

"She knew her A B C's... she had seen life and knew what she was doing."

GRECO CROSS-QUIZ ENDS, LYONS TO DENY BRIBES

Mayor John W. Lyons of Cambridge will take the stand in his own defense and testify he never received a cent of money from anyone at any time under conditions outlined by the Middlesex County district attorney's office, Atty. Francis T. Leahy, counsel for Lyons announced today.

Leahy made the statement in outlining his defense of the charges against Lyons after the prosecution had rested.

"All the building concerned in this trial was necessary for the city," Leahy said. "It was carefully considered and passed on. Bidding even for architects, was competitive."

"Prior to 1938 Lyons ran for mayor twice. Once he was defeated and once elected. Mr. Mannos was his backer—his campaign manager. He put up money. The two campaigns cost $10,000. Then, in 1939, Mayor Lyons was re-elected. Mannos was his manager."

GRECO LAST WITNESS

"Mayor Lyons will tell you he not only received no money, he did not even know any money was being extracted from architects, nor did he know of any of these schemes."

"Our only defense is that we are not guilty."

Final witness for the prosecution was Charles R. Greco who said that he spent half of his $14,000 salary making payments to Mannos and Lyons.

Greco was under cross-examination before Judge Harold P. Williams, by Leahy.

Greco admitted that at the 1939 primary, Lyons snubbed him.

"He turned his back on me and walked away," Greco said.

He testified also that once Mannos said to him:

"Charlie pays right on the line."

SHOWS $3489 CHECKS

He repeated that once when Mannos had told him that he (Man-nos) was going to sue the mayor he had gone to the mayor and said:

"This Mannos wants $300 and he's going to sue you if he doesn't get it. He says he'll raise a rumpus that will get to Bradford." (Robert F. Bradford is district attorney of Middlesex County.)

On the stand, though he had testified to having paid a total of about $21,000 in "kick-backs" to Lyons and Mannos, Greco was able to show payment checks totalling only $5489.

CARSON CITY, Mich., March 14 (INS)—An 11-year-old Mexican child mother and her seven-pound four-ounce son, born during a Caesarian operation in Carson City Hospital last night, today were both reported "doing well" by attending physicians.

The operation was performed by Dr. Emmett Binkert, the hospital's chief of staff, as part of a surgical clinic dedicating Carson City's new hospital.

Awarded $20,000 damages in her $200,000 breach of promise suit against dairy executive Vernal E. Clem of Jamaica Plain, divorcee Mrs. Cecil R. Patterson shakes hands with herself after sealed verdict is opened today in Suffolk Court.

Young Love Fails Jailed Kidnap; Wife Cuts Tie

Another chapter in the fast life story of Paul V. Gould, kidnap-bandit, was ended today when the Weymouth girl he married at 15 divorced him in Dedham Probate Court.

Gould, two months ago today, was sentenced in federal court here to 10 years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for kidnaping and robbery.

But Bernice V. Gould, now only 18, did not base her divorce action on the fact her 20-year-old husband is serving a prison sentence.

UNLUCKY BRIDAL DATE

She had filed her action before the conviction and the divorce was granted today on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment and intoxication.

Before Judge James F. Reynolds, she testified she was 15 and Gould
17 when they were married at South
Royalston, Vt., on Feb. 13, 1938.

It was a luckless date, it appeared, for the marriage had hardly got under way when Gould, she said, began drinking heavily and would come home, sometimes four nights a week and sometimes every night, intoxicated.

WIFE GIVEN CHILD

Citing instances when she said he abused her, the young wife declared that in July, 1938, while intoxicated, he struck her in the face.

A few days later he was sentenced to Concord Reformatory for armed robbery in Suffolk County.
With her divorce, Mrs. Gould was awarded custody of the 2-year-old daughter.

BERNICE V. GOULD, 18

Gould went back to South Royalston, where his aunt has a farm, to effect the kidnaping for which he is now in Atlanta.

On Nov. 14 he held a sawed-off shotgun to the head of Harold O.
Flint, rural mail carrier at South
Royalston, and forced Flint to drive
260 miles to Boston, being accompanied by the mail carrier's 3-year-old son.

When they reached Boston,
Gould robbed Flint of $42 and left the father and son stranded. In the city-wide search for the kidnaper next day, two Boston policemen surprised Gould at his mother's home in Ottawa st., Roxbury, and shot him four times when he confronted them with a toy pistol.

2 TAXI MEN ADMIT KILLING RICH WOMAN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March
14 (AP)—The body of Mrs. Ruth Rawlins, 35, wife of a wealthy retired Canadian metallurgist, was found in a shallow grave near Gainesville, Fla., early today and two taxidrivers were held as her slayers.

Police Chief E. D. Vaughn said the two St. Petersburg cab drivers admitted that they killed Mrs. Rawlins Wednesday night and hauled her body 115 miles in a taxi before hiding it in a roadside grave. Sheriff Todd Tucker signed first degree murder warrants against the men a few hours after the body was recovered.

James Rawlins, the husband, told reporters he was a former metallurgist and assistant superintendent for the International Nickel Co. He and his wife were visiting here from Toronto, Canada.

Rawlins said she failed to return home yesterday and he remained awake all night, first learning of her death when reporters visited his home this morning.

Vaughn said the woman's body was buried two or three feet under ground at the edge of a new graded road, about 10 miles north of Gainesville.

"Robbery," he added, "was not a motive. She was buried with her diamonds, and there was a wrist watch on her hand."
He added that the taxi drivers, whom he identified as Frank B.
Hogan, 27, and Earl J. Allen, 35, were arrested by deputies under Sheriff Neil F. Law of Brooksville.

STORY OF COP'S DELAY WINS DIVORCE FOR BEATEN WIFE

What worried Judge Robert Gardiner Wilson Jr.—and no wonder—what the policeman she had taken home for protection was doing all the time she certainly needed it most.

"Now?" asked the judge eagerly, leaning forward in Suffolk Probate Court.

"No, not now!" Mrs. Florence De Cicco would reply, and His Honor would sink back in disappointment.

It seemed the policeman taken home by Mrs. DeCicco of Spencer ave., Chelsea, had absent-mindedly stayed out in the hall—and who, even a judge, wouldn't be on the qui vive while she was on the other side of the door, having a distressing time?

WHILE THE COP WAITS

Her husband, Carmene, now of Revere, she said, "grabbed me by the hands and forced me down on my knees."

"What was the officer doing all this time?" asked the judge.

"He was out in the hall," she said. "My husband grabbed a fruit bowl and hid it over my head and asked me if I loved him. I said yes. I expected the bowl down on my head any minute. Then he came at me with his fists."

"Does the officer come in now?" asked the judge expectantly.

"No, not now!"

Having in mind, perhaps, the code of conduct becoming an officer, her stalwart guard politely knocked first.

SLOW MOTION LAW

"Oh, the officer finally came in then?" asked the eager judge.

"Oh, no, not then," she replied. Everyone in the courtroom could visualize the tableau—Florence half-crouched in defense, Carmene allegedly belligerent, the guardian of the law politely waiting outside.

So he knocked again and finally, perhaps tiring of all this dilly-dallying, broke the door open.

Judge Wilson gave her the uncontested divorce, custody of two children and $5 a week toward their support.

It never did come out what became of the cop, and for all the court knows he might be standing yet in the room in Spencer ave.

No Negligence In O'Hara Death

TAUNTON, March 14.—Walter E. O'Hara, Narragansett race promoter, killed Feb. 28 in an auto crash here, came to his death without any criminal negligence, Judge Frederick E. Austin reported today, following an inquest.

"Intoxicating liquor did not contribute or in any way enter into the accident," the report stated.

"I find that Walter E. O'Hara came to his death without the criminal negligence or the unlawful act of any other person contributing thereto."

Judge Austin filed his report in the office of the Bristol County Superior Court.

BUENOS AIRES, March 14 (AP).—A naval lieutenant and a cadet were killed today when an Argentine naval plane fell during maneuvers over the river La Plata.

Belmont Man Dies in Car

Shortly after he was reported as missing today, Bertram H. McDonald, 36, of Alma ave., Belmont, was found dead in his parked car at the corner of Mt. Auburn st. and Upland rd., Watertown, by an aunt on her way to the store.

Recognizing the car plates, Mrs. Stanley R. Balcom, of Mt. Auburn st., Watertown, investigated and found McDonald stretched out on the seat.

She summoned Watertown police who took McDonald to the Cambridge Hospital where he was pronounced dead. Medical Examiner T. Morton Gallagher said death resulted from cerebral hemorrhage. McDonald had apparently been dead all night, Gallagher said.

Surviving are Mrs. Muriel McDonald and two daughters, Kathleen, six, and Judith, three-months.

Ladders Save 4 Trapped in Fire

Trapped on the second floor of a burning building, a Roxbury Crossing family of mother, father and two small children were rescued over ladders by firemen early today.

Two alarms were sounded for the blaze, which swept the four-story brick building in Cabot st., Roxbury, and drove out six other persons.

The flames ignited a tank of chemicals stored in a vacant basement store and soon the house was filled with sulphurous fumes. Firemen wearing gas masks guided out the occupants.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleophas J. Johnson and their two children were carried down ladders. Led out were Miss Mildred Harris, 41, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson and family from the first floor and Miss Mary Williams, 33, from her fourth floor apartment.

Deputy Chief William Quigley, who ordered the second alarm rung as a precautionary measure, estimated the damage at $3500.

Another two-alarm fire, which swept the old Hathaway bakery building in Robey st., Roxbury, was under investigation by police today after Deputy Fire Chief Dennis J. Coughlin expressed the belief it had been set by boys. The three-story structure, which has been vacant for several months, was a mass of flames when firemen arrived.

The blaze spread so rapidly that within a few minutes flames were shooting from the roof, causing a glow visible for five miles. The second alarm was sounded to call protecting equipment for numerous three-decker houses in the vicinity.

Seventeen persons were forced from their rooms in a Massachusetts ave., South End, lodging house when fire broke out in the basement and sent clouds of smoke through the building. A group of six were guided to safety from the roof, while the others fled down a fire escape.

Mother Held In Check Theft

After weeping throughout her arraignment before U. S. Commr. Edward Donovan in Federal court here today a 26-year-old Lowell mother of two collapsed when she was ordered held in $2000 on charges of stealing mail and forging and uttering a government check.

The government charged that Mrs. Margaret H. Daley took a letter containing an $85.17 check from the government to a Lowell WPA worker in December, 1939.

According to Asst. U. S. Atty. Arthur J. B. Cartier, Mrs. Daley is under a two-year suspended sentence imposed in the same court.

last week on charges that she stole three letters containing money orders.

Wife Freed From Race Track Bettor

Rose H. Fay, 21, of Ansonia rd., West Roxbury, daughter of Lawrence P. Burke, a Boston fire inspector, won a divorce from Thomas J. Fay of Belgrade ave., West Roxbury, for cruel and abusive treatment, in Suffolk Probate Court today.

She said Fay, a mutual ticket seller at race tracks, had a habit of coming home intoxicated and bringing others, intoxicated, with him.

A gambler as well as ticket seller, she testified, he frequently lost $30 or $40 a day on the steeds, and then he would slap her and swear at her.

WINS $5 A WEEK

She won $5 a week toward support of a two-year-old daughter. When Frances E. Lyon of South Boston had to go to a hospital, she said, her husband, Leo, now of Spring Garden st., Dorchester, sneaked over to her mother's house, left their baby on the doorstep and tip-toed away.

Not long afterward, she said, he tip-toed out of her life, and today Judge Wilson allowed to tip-toe out of her marriage. She was awarded $6 a week for her child.

Katherine Murphy of Logan way, South Boston, divorced Paul E. Murphy, a South Boston WPA worker after testifying that he came home drunk and kicked her in the back.

WINS CHILD'S CUSTODY

She was given custody of the one child, with $7 a week for support. An annulment of his marriage was granted Joseph H. Godfrey of Washington st., Boston, who testified when he married Ellen E. Godfrey on Sept. 30, 1918, she said she was single. But in 1937 he finally drew from her an admission, he said, that she married one Peter J. Forest in 1912 and never had been divorced.

Ired Students Parade in Ban On Tap Rooms

MARIETTA, O., March 14 (AP)—Shouting "hells" and giving the Nazi salute, half of Marietta College's student body protested en masse a new edict barring them from tap rooms.

About 175 students, 50 per cent of them co-eds, participated in a "protest march" that started in a tavern tap room and ended before the home of College President H. K. Eversull.

The demonstration followed a ruling by Dean D. T. Schoonover that "any student entering places where intoxicating drinks are sold and found doing so will be dismissed from college at once."

Massed before Eversull's home, the students shouted "Hell Schoonover" and demanded Eversull's intervention.

They disbanded after Eversull appeared and said: "The sensible thing to do is to have a committee of the student senate and the dean talk this thing over."

Eversull and Schoonover said that the tap room ban was invoked because "the drinking situation has reached alarming proportions."

FREED—Testimony Reinald Werrenrath, noted opera baritone was "temperamental" and "extremely jealous" has won a divorce decree for Mrs. Verna True Werrenrath (above) in San Francisco.

Initial In Blood Found Traced on Slain Girl's Body

KANSAS CITY, March 14 (AP)—An initial was traced in blood on the body of Lella Adele Welch by her slayer, Police Chief Lear B. Reed disclosed today.

Reed intimated arrest of a suspect was near. The 24-year-old beauty and heiress was bludgeoned and slashed to death in her bed Sunday morning.

Painted with blood on the calf of her left leg, Reed said, the four-inch initial was placed either as the slayer's trademark or to divert suspicion to someone else.

25-Way Shipyard Planned for Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 14 (AP)—A new shipyard here with 25 ways, to build merchant ships for the government, is announced by Walter A. Jones, Pittsburgh industrialist.

Jones and L. F. Detweiler said the concern, to cost between $25,000,000 and $40,000,000, would employ 25,000 to 30,000 persons and would have an annual payroll of more than $25,000,000.

NEW SOCIAL GAINS URGED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt recommended at a press conference today that the number of persons covered by the Social Security program and the benefits they receive be increased.

Some developments on this program, he said, may be expected in the spring.

Answering questions, the Chief Executive said a good deal of consideration had been given to revision of the Social Security program. The general idea, he asserted, was that coverage as regards the number of human beings affected and the greater equalization of benefits for old people was something that we want to go ahead with.

He said it was better to increase coverage and raise standards gradually each year rather than try to obtain a Utopia at one time. Millions of old people not within the scope of Social Security should be, he said, and old age benefits ought to be increased over a period of years so there would not be so much dependence on state grants.

Everett Bandit Victim Dies

Shot and seriously wounded Wednesday night while resisting two bandits who held him up in his variety store in Shute st., Everett, Dominick Kondrat, 67-year-old storekeeper, died today at the Whidden Memorial Hospital, Everett.

Police search for the bandit pair was spurred and officials prepared to apply for a murder warrant, even as two suspects arrested in Scollay sq., were being questioned at headquarters.

From the story told by Kondrat before he died, police believe that the two bandits who forced him at gunpoint into a rear room and shot him in the abdomen when he refused, are a Negro and a white man suspected of other holdups in the Everett and Malden districts.

Sergt. William J. Harrow of the headquarters detective squad said the two men in custody were picked up when they were seen acting suspiciously near parked cars in the Scollay sq. area.

In the pocket of one of the suspects, according to Sergt. Harrow, was found an unloaded pistol. The gun was turned over to ballistics experts.

Two men answering the description of the two who shot Kondrat held up a Malden storekeeper earlier in the week. Morris Kaufman reported that two armed bandits had robbed him up in his Harvard st. store of $9, escaping in a stolen car.

10 Meanie, Bear Mascot, Off for Camp Edwards

All other news paled at Camp Edwards today when word was received that Meanie Magee, the crinest critter to come from the Maine backwoods in many a year, was on his way for induction into the Army as an anti-tank battalion mascot.

Although his reputation was slightly tarnished as a result of the cuffing about sister Minnie gave him when he got fresh on hearing of his selection, the 175-pound black bear's disposition was as sour as ever.

Since all attempts to place a collar about Meanie's neck failed, Maine State game preserve officials shipped him in a cage via beach wagon to the unnamed soldier who requested them to provide "the very toughest, meanest critter there is" for a battalion mascot.

Other news included word from Brig. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson, head of Selective Service in the State, that Bay State draftees have a chance to sign up with the famed YD Division stationed at Camp Edwards.

He disclosed that men facing a call who volunteer now may sign up with the YD and thus avoid the possibility of being sent far from home. March 20 is the deadline under this arrangement, which is designed to bring the division to full strength.

Currently about 500 men a day are being sent to Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga., from the Ft. Devens recruit reception center. After six weeks of training they will be transferred to New England's 43d Division at Camp Blanding, Fla.

BRITISH CAPTURE TOWN

KHARTOUM, March 14 (INS)—British forces have captured Asosa, 45 miles southeast of Kismuk, in the Condar region of Ethiopia, an official announcement said today.

SALOONS WARNED AGAINST USE OF BOUNCERS

While taking a stabbing case in a Back Bay liquor place under advisement, the Boston Licensing Board today warned tavern operators against the use of strong arm tactics to eject unwelcome patrons.

If a patron in a Boston cafe or tavern becomes so disagreeable that he must be forcibly ousted, the police must be called to remove him, members of the board warned. Employees who take it upon themselves to bounce such a patron may cost their employer the loss of his license, the board stated.

The hearing was held on a police report on the alleged stabbing of a patron by a bartender in a Back Bay hard liquor place. Both bartender and victim testified the stabbing was accidental.

$53,400,000 EACH FOR NEW U. S. CRUISERS

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP).—The Navy is planning six powerful battle cruisers, a type new for the United States, as part of the huge two-ocean fleet program.

A conspicuous table of combat shipbuilding now under way which was made public by the House appropriations committee in reporting the $3,400,000,000 naval supply bill disclosed this new development. There were no details as to characteristics of the ships, but the table showed they would cost a total of $324,400,000 — $53,400,000 each. It was not stated whether this figure included armament or was only for hull and machinery. If the cost of armament is to be added the complete ships would cost almost as much as $70,000,000 battleships of the 35,000-ton type.

SILENT ON TONNAGE

At the time the two-ocean Navy program was authorized last July, there was testimony before the House Naval committee that cruisers as large as 27,000 tons might be undertaken as an answer to the threat of "pocket battleships" and other long range, powerful sea raiders being developed by other powers.

The Navy, however, has maintained strict silence regarding the tonnages and other characteristics of all its new ships.

In view of the estimated cost of the new vessels there was some doubt that the battle cruisers would be as large as those of the same category in other navies. For instance, the British battle cruiser Hood, the world's largest combat vessel, is of 42,000 tons displacement.

23 LIGHT CRUISERS

There was no indication from the table where the new craft were being built, but apparently the construction is just in the preliminary stages. The table showed that the Navy expected to spend $1,100,000 on the vessels during the year ending June 30 and $7,000,000 in the succeeding fiscal year. Subsequent to July 1, 1942, the table showed the balance of $312,300,000 will be spent.

It also was disclosed that under the 70 per cent expansion law, the Navy is building four heavy cruisers and 23 light cruisers.

Bay State Seeks U. S. Sub-Contracts

The Massachusetts Industrial Committee on National Defense today launched a drive to secure defense sub-contracts from out of state manufacturers for empty factory space and idle machinery in the Bay State.

The state has been divided into areas with 23 co-ordinators ready to flat available sites and equipment to be shown firms in other areas anxious to "farm out" smaller sections of their work.

4 JAP PLANES DOWNED

CHUNGKING, March 14 (AP).—Four Japanese warplanes were shot down today, Chinese reported, when a wedge of 12 machines flew over Szechwan province in an apparent reconnaissance to locate the Chinese air force.

BLAME YOUR LIVER IF—

If your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day into your intestines—constipation with its headaches, mental dullness and that "half-alive" feeling often result. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile.

Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stimulate liver bile to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action, at the same time help elimination. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are wonderful! Test their supreme goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢. All drugstores.

NAZI FIRING SQUAD KILLS 15 DUTCHMEN

BERLIN, March 11 (AP)—German military authorities in the Netherlands announced today that 15 persons convicted of membership in a "terror, sabotage and espionage organization" were executed by a firing squad yesterday.

Death sentences pronounced on three others were commuted to life imprisonment.

Forty-three persons were tried as leaders of an organization accused of engaging in acts of sabotage against the German army and the army supply service in the occupied Netherlands and of engaging in espionage.

Thirty-seven of them were convicted March 4. Eighteen were condemned to death and the other 19 were sentenced to prison terms ranging from a year and a half to seven years.

Dublin Batteries Fire on Plane

DUBLIN, March 14 (AP)—Eire ground batteries fired on a plane of unidentified nationality which flew over Dublin bay today, the government information bureau announced.

A British plane crashed in County Louth, Northern Eire, last night. The pilot was injured.

4 U. S. Bombers Lost On Torpedoed Ship

LOS ANGELES, March 14 (AP)—The Los Angeles Examiner said today it had learned "in authoritative harbor circles" that the Norwegian freighter Benjamin Franklin, carrying four $100,000 Douglas bombers and a cargo of foodstuffs from Los Angeles to England, had been sunk off the British coast.

The report said a German torpedo sank the ship last week with the loss of Capt. Alf Anderson and 30 others of her crew of 37.

The Benjamin Franklin, a 7034-gross-ton vessel, in British service since the fall of Norway, left Los Angeles Jan. 12.

Nazi Envoy Faces Honduras Ouster

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, March 14 (INS)—Christian Zimser, German charge d'affaires in Honduras, faced immediate expulsion from the country today after being declared persona non grata last night.

The Nazi diplomat was accused of spreading German propaganda and attempting to provoke trouble between Honduras and the United States. Authorities said he would be compelled to leave Honduras immediately and probably will return to Germany via Russia.

German, But No Goose Step Added To Cadet's Study

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—West Point Cadets hereafter will double the time they have been spending on Spanish and also will take up the study of German.

Announcing this to his press conference today, Secretary Simon added with a smile:

"This doesn't mean there will be training in the goose step." Maj.-Gen. Robert C. Richardson, public relations chief and former commandant at West Point, said German would be studied because so much modern military literature was in that language.

LETTERS FROM ENGLAND

This is another in a series of letters from Eitons to friends and relatives in Greater Boston.

From: Prof. W. E. S. Turner, D.Sc., F.R.S.
Professor of Gladd Technology,
Sheffield University.

To: Rev. T. F. Marshall,
Rector, Church of the Epiphany,
Dorchester, Mass.

MY DEAR FRED:

May I send affectionate greetings to all of you, and if I add to this sentence anything more that is to have reality it is that you all, with us, may be kept with consolate courage to meet whatever may befall us.

A week ago I browsed round in a bookshop and came across the "Anthology of Immortality." Perhaps it goes well with a frequent mood in these days, and because also as the year passes the number we know who have joined the "saints" grows into a larger family.

The year has been a trying one. Gradually we find ourselves ever more giving up one comfort, one liberty, one hope, one intention after the other, solely due to the action of one wicked man and his henchmen who have come nearer to selling themselves to the Devil than any group of whom we have ever heard.

FOOD CONTROLLED

Foodstuffs are now controlled directly or indirectly. Butter, margarine, cooking fats, meat, bacon, ham, sugar and tea are all rationed. The butter allowance is two ounces per person per week; margarine, four ounces. There is no cream now to be had. Cheese we find difficult to obtain and so are eggs. The latter can only be obtained at intervals.

In the large cities at any time after nightfall we may hear the destroyers overhead and millions must spend hours cooped up underground in shelters in poor air if they are to escape injury. And they don't always. I suppose the death roll since August must be at least 20,000 and a much larger number injured, and the destruction is enormous.

Has anyone told you of Eric's wedding on October 3d. He was married to Louise Taylor, lecturer in Modern History, by Ernest, using the old form of the C. of E. marriage service at King's College Chapel, Aberdeen. I am sure he and Louise are happy.

The wedding was confined to the family, but was done with dignity and reverence.

The college staff and dining rooms were put at the bride and bridegroom's disposal, for reception and lunch, and they went off to the magnificent Cairngorm Mountains for a very short honeymoon.

HOME LIFE UNSURE
Eric's home life may, however, be broken, at any time, for he was accepted as a seaman in the Navy some time ago and has expected a calling up long ago.

Meanwhile, John, Margaret's husband, has been called up and is serving in the Army Artillery. I think he will be probably chosen for a commission. Margaret and little David John are now members of my household for the duration.

One of the cellars has been strengthened as a shelter and fitted with simple bunks, and there are go when the air raid alarms are sounded.

Thus far, we can record with

COLDS →
FIGHT MISERY where you feel it—rub on fast-acting gratitude that our felly is safe. Edna has had to spend many nights in a shelter and thereby to do her work next day amongst equally tired workpeople.

She reported three years ago that in the heavy raid in week on Birmingham, the fact that she has been Welfare Superintendent so long was destroyed and she is left without a post. I've pressed her to come here for a fortnight's rest before she makes new plans. Her house had an incendiary bomb in it causing a fire and she hesitates to leave it.

With love to all, yours affectionately,
ERNEST.

16 Yugoslavia Delays Nazi Pact for Good of Nation

By DESIDER GELEJI

International News Service Staff Correspondent
BELGRADE, March 14 (INS)—Any Yugoslavian concessions to Germany must be in accord with the "real interests" of the nation, Belgrade authorities insisted today as negotiations went forward with Nazi Germany.

For the moment conversations between Belgrade and Berlin are being conducted through ordinary diplomatic channels as the two governments seek a compromise agreement regarding the extent and form of Yugoslavia's forthcoming declaration of solidarity with the Axis powers.

According to latest indications, the Yugoslavian government now is prepared to accept a pact of non-aggression and eternal friendship with Germany and a diplomatic instrument giving formal shape to existing economic relations between the two countries.

Date of departure of Premier Dragosha Cvetovic and Foreign Minister Alexander Cincar-Marcovic for Vienna to confer with Chancellor Hitler once more became uncertain, although previous plans called for them to leave tomorrow.

It appeared that the German plane sent to Belgrade Monday to transport them to Germany now may have to wait until next week.

Informed sources declared no final Yugoslav-German settlement can be expected for several days.

Some sources said that Germany already, however, has agreed to guarantee Yugoslavia's frontiers.

Cvetovic has been in constant touch with Regent Prince Paul and Vice-Premier Vladimir Matich, who received a message from the Association of Yugoslavs in the United States urging preservation of Yugoslavian independence.

Lone RAF Pilot Downs 2 Nazis With First Shots

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—The pilot of a British fighter plane brought down two of the German planes shot down in last night's Nazi attack on Glasgow, the air ministry news service said today.

The pilot said he saw the first plane in the moonlight when he was a mile away and closed in. With the first burst of machine-gun fire the Nazi plane caught fire and dived into the sea.

The pilot landed, refuelled, took the air again and again hit a Nazi raider with his first fire. A piece of the aircraft fell away, the pilot said, and later he saw the plane in flames hit the sea.

RAF RAIDERS KILLED 50, BERLIN SAYS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, March 14 (INS)—More than 50 patients and nurses were killed or buried alive under duress last night when British raiders bombed two hospitals at Hamburg, an official German announcement said today.

The institutions hit were the Barnbeck and St. George's Hospitals, the announcement stated. They were blasted by RAF raiders which attacked Hamburg for the second successive night.

At the same time, returning German airmen reported that hundreds of German planes that raided the Scottish shipbuilding port of Glasgow devastated a four-mile corridor of docks, shipyards and storage establishments during the night.

The German attacks on Glasgow, Liverpool, Birkenhead, Hull and other English and Scottish centers were among the heaviest of the entire conflict.

They added, this announcement said, that Glasgow warehouses, a power station, grain silos and gas works formed a "veritable ocean of flames."

Liverpool and Birkenhead were bombed severely, the communique added, resulting in many large fires and explosions, while war-important objectives at Hull also were bombed.

At the same time German anti-aircraft batteries and night fighters shot down 18 British bombers and severely damaged "many" other British planes during the RAF attack on Hamburg, an official announcement said. Seven Nazi planes were admitted lost.

Lost Battalion Rescuer Dies

FALL RIVER, March 14 (AP)—Col. Ralph H. Simmons, 52, a native of this city, died last night at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington. A member of the American Expeditionary forces during the World War, Col. Simmons commanded the 20th Ambulance Company which evacuated the "Lost Battalion" of the 7th Division.

British Down 14 Duce Planes

ATHENS, Greece, March 14 (AP)—RAF headquarters announced today 14 Italian fighter planes were shot down and a number badly damaged yesterday in a battle over the Kilsura-Tepeleni sector of Albania without the loss of a single British plane.

Greek dispatches claimed five Italian divisions had been shattered in Italian offensives launched in the last seven days in response to Mussolini's reported adjuration to his officers to "do something."

Greek dispatches said Mussolini would return to Rome from his visit to the front empty-handed and "covered with shame" after failure of the offensive he had personally ordered.

British Torpedo Planes Attack Valona's Shipping

ROME, March 14 (AP)—Five British torpedo planes of the type that attacked the Italian fleet at Taranto, attempted to launch their missiles at shipping in Valona harbor, Albania, Italians reported today, but succeeded only in damaging one merchant vessel.

Japs in Air Raid On Chang's Capital

SHANGHAI, March 14 (INS)—Radio communications between Shanghai and Chungking, Generalissimo Chang Kai-Shek's capital, were severed for the first time in months today, leading to belief Japanese planes were delivering a heavy attack on the inland city. The last message from the Chungking radio operator was the terse statement: "Air raid."

NAZIS UNLEASH REPRISAL RAIDS ON BRITISH, SCOTTISH CITIES

ly also as "not numerous." "Elsewhere in the country," the ministers of air and home security said, "there were many other incidents, but few were serious, though some resulted in a small number of casualties."

In their assaults last night the Germans used scream bombs similar to those employed last spring in France.

Fierce defensive barrages greeted them everywhere, and the sky over England was alight in many places with bursting shells.

Clear moonlight aided the raiders but also proved a boon to the British night fighters, which appeared in unprecedented numbers.

NAZI LOSSES MOUNT

Wednesday night the night fighters were credited with shooting down five of the first nine Nazi planes reported destroyed. Anti-aircraft guns were credited with the other four.

Thus far in March, the British said, they have destroyed 33 German night raiders. The highest figure previously claimed for an entire month was 32 in September and the same number in October.

Meanwhile, the British Air Force mauled frequently-bombed Hamburg overnight in the greatest assault yet, set oil facilities at Rotterdam ablaze, delivered "minor" attacks against Bremen and Emden and torpedoed and sank a Nazi supply ship in the Frisian islands, the air ministry announced.

This second straight night of trip-hammer blows against German and Nazi-held territory was delivered against the northwestern corner of Germany, where German naval bases, shipyards, docks and marine and other industries are concentrated, and which has become the principal target of the RAF in the all-out offensive.

NAZI AIRCRAFT SET AFIRE

Striking in the clear light of a full moon, British bombers were said to have pounded the shipbuilding yard, docks and warehouses at Hamburg, adding new fires to those set off the night before.

Other targets near the mouth of the Elbe river, between Hamburg and the North Sea coast were "left burning fiercely," the air ministry communique said.

Bombers of the same command went on to blast Rotterdam, where more huge fires were reported started.

Bremen, where sprawling ship yards turn out many of Germany's ships, again was attacked, but on a smaller scale than Wednesday night's fierce assault. Emden, a major Nazi naval base, also was said to have come in for heavy attack.

Completing the nocturnal raids on continental objectives, single

British aircraft splashed bombs on two airbases in The Netherlands

the British said.

Sinking of the German supply ship was credited to planes of the coastal command. They also were reported to have scored a direct hit on another supply ship and to have machine-gunned other Nazi vessels off the Norwegian coast.

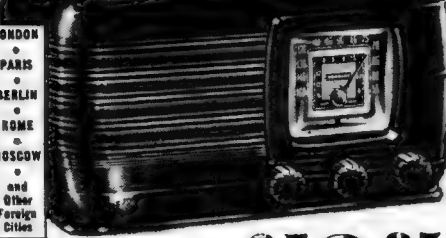

The loss of six British planes was acknowledged.

AGREEMENTS EASE NATION'S STRIKE PERIL

By Associated Press

The threat of a strike at seven New Jersey and Pennsylvania plants of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., was cleared away today by union acceptance of a new contract.

The Edison agreement calls for a wage increase and a modified preferential shop. It was estimated it would increase the annual wages of 2000 workers by about $255,000. Meanwhile sub-committees of bituminous coal operators and CIO United Mine Workers, meeting in New York, attempted negotiation of a contract to replace one which expires March 31.

Plans were being speeded for a hearing on the CIO-United Automobile Workers' petition for a collective bargaining election at two Ford Motor Co. plants in the Detroit area, following conflicting reports of a labor disturbance at the Ford rolling mills and open hearth department yesterday.

Strikes continued to spot industrial New Jersey despite settlement of the Edison controversy. Three thousand workers remained out at the Aluminum Company of America plant at Edgewater; so did 1500 at the General Instruments Corporation plant at Elizabeth, and 2000 at the Cornell Dubilier plant in South Plainfield.

Signing of a new contract with AFL structural steel workers last night ended the threat of a strike at two Birmingham, Ala., plants of the Ingalls Iron Works Company, now fabricating plates for $100,000,000 worth of defense shipbuilding.

The new agreement gave wage increases to the firm's 650 employees. However, a shipbuilding subsidiary at Pascagoula, Miss., remained hampered by a strike of 150 AFL riggers and erectors.

Other labor developments in the South saw a settlement of a dispute at a tulou plant being built at Baytown, Tex., and the beginning of a strike of 100 carpenters at a Navy defense project at Key West, Fla.

At Oakland, Cal., last night CIO union auto workers authorized a strike vote Saturday against General Motors plants in Eastbay.

N. Y. Bus Strike Parley Resumes

NEW YORK, March 14 (INS)—As New York city's bus strike moved into its fifth day, leaders of the CIO's Transport Workers' Union and representatives of the two strike-bound Manhattan bus companies today planned to renew negotiations in an attempt to settle the wage dispute.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, who announced that the parleys would be resumed at the office of the New York State Mediation Board, reported that yesterday's all-day conferences brought no immediate promise of settlement.

FREE SAMPLES OF REMARKABLE TREATMENT FOR STOMACH ULCERS DUE TO GASTRIC HYPERACIDITY

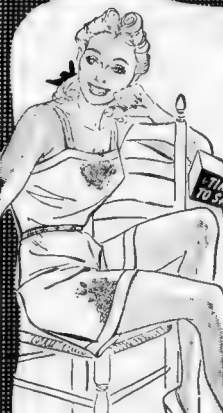

A. D. Story, Manchester, N. H., writes: "I suffered from a gastric stomach for many years and was treated by several doctors but could not get relief. X-Ray examination showed an ulcer due to gastric hyperacidity. A friend asked me to try Von's Tablets. I did, and sure received prompt relief. I didn't lose any time from my work and felt good and gained back the weight lost because of the over-acid stomach condition, and have a good appetite. I think Von's are remarkable for those who suffer from acid stomach trouble." U. S. Will Register Labor for Defense

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Moving to establish a great national pool of talent from which craftsmen may be chosen for jobs in defense industries, the government today appealed for the co-operation of American labor in a voluntary registration drive opening tomorrow.

The appeal addressed in particular to every employed worker or available for work or training in defense jobs, and to every person with an "unusually needed skill" which is not being used in his present position.

CLASSIFICATIONS

In the latter group, the government was especially desirous of obtaining data on experienced workers in the following classification:

Aircraft manufacture—airplane, ship, motor, workers, airplane, woodworkers, inspectors and aeronautical engineers.

Shipbuilding—ship carpenters, joiners, boatbuilders, shipfitters, caulkers and marine machinists.

Machine shops and machinery manufacturing—machinists, tool makers, lathe operators, die makers and tool designers.

It was emphasized, however, that registrations were not wanted from skilled workmen now employed in any of the industries listed above.

In urging the co-operation of all citizens in the registration campaign, Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt said the government was concerned over the supply of labor available for defense industries within the next few months, and with the developing shortage of certain types of skilled labor.

WHERE TO REGISTER

Those wishing to register may report to the nearest state employment service office. There are 1500 full-time offices and 3000 part-time branches over the nation, addresses of which may be obtained in local telephone directories or at post offices.

Another move to stabilize the labor situation developed yesterday when a proposal for establishment of a federal mediation board to

Murder Trial Jurors Work on Tax Returns

LANCASTER, Pa., March 14 (AP)—The mystery of why two jurors were busily writing during a murder trial yesterday was cleared up today.

The jurors, Leslie S. Hubbard and George W. Banzhof, were putting the "finishing touches" in their income tax reports.

They asked the judge's permission—and got it—to have a deputy clerk take affidavits on their reports so they could file them before the Saturday night deadline.

deal with strikes in defense industries was laid before President Roosevelt by Labor Secretary Perkins and William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, co-directors of the office of production management.

Deadline on Tax Returns Tomorrow

With the deadline for filing federal returns tomorrow, Bostonians were urged to file income taxes set at 4 p. m. to file returns today.

F. D. SILENT ON WAR AID SENT BRITAIN

list of items approved for shipment to Britain and Greece, but asked that reporters not inquire about the specific articles and try to find out by a process of elimination what war materials were being allotted.

AID FOR CHINA, TOO

On the question of assistance to China, Mr. Roosevelt said that matter was coming along all right, but that he had no announcements to make on it at the present.

Spoke near the President at the press conference was Laughlin Currie, one of his administrative assistants, just back from a personal mission to China for the Chief Executive. To an inquiry what sort of report Currie had brought back, Mr. Roosevelt said Currie still was in the process of presenting it to him.

To a question whether he would ease to discuss aiding other countries than Britain, China and Greece, Mr. Roosevelt said he thought the legislation providing for assistance was pretty clear on that point. He asserted if nations not now in the process of resisting aggression by force should decide or be compelled to resist, they would fall within the scope of the bill.

He responded in the negative to a question whether any consideration was being given to shipping war supplies to Turkey.

DAY AID IRELAND

Still answering questions, Mr. Roosevelt said he had not heard officially that the Irish defense minister was coming to this country and said he did not know whether Ireland could qualify under the legislation.

On the matter of proposals in Congress for a direct tax on salaries to help finance defense and British aid, he said he had merely read about it in the newspapers. He added that Secretary Morgenthau and two of his assistants were coming in today to talk over, primarily, tax receipts, which he said are well ahead of expectations.

Given "very enthusiastic endorsement" by Secretaries Hull, Stimson and Knox, the $7,000,000,000 appropriation bill meanwhile advanced rapidly through the preliminary phase of legislative consideration.

Chairman Woodrum (D.) of Virginia, said his House appropriations subcommittee hoped to finish its hearings on the measure during the day—thus completing in two days its deliberations on the largest appropriation in peacetime history.

The bill already has acquired the No. 1 position on the House calendar for next Tuesday, and its passage by Wednesday night was generally forecast.

Unlicensed Dairymen In State Under Fire

Following a conference, Asst. Atty.-Gen. Volpe and the State Milk Administration today indicated they were going to crack down on some 200 unlicensed milk dealers in the Bay State.

A drive also will be launched to collect $15,000 owed the state by about 400 farmers, the officials intimated. The money owed, it is said, represents assessments levied on milk farmers.

COMEDIAN TAXED $75,755

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—The Tax Appeals Board upheld a treasury claim that Oliver N. Hardy, Hollywood film comedian, owed $75,755 in income taxes for 1934 to 1937.

Hutchinson Set to Take Over Community Fund

"Progress must be continued . . ."

With these words, Maynard Hutchinson was making plans to take over his new duties as general chairman of the Greater Boston Community Fund 1942 campaign.

Hutchinson, treasurer of the Newton Community Chest, Harvard graduate (1908) and Boston investment banker, whose appointment was announced by Community Fund President Charles F. Adams, issued a statement which said:

"These are days when we all must look forward and, in accordance with our abilities and vision, help plan for the future welfare of our community as an integral part of the nation.

"The uninterrupted record of progress in all phases of this undertaking is indisputable evidence of the soundness of the plan and of the quality of the service that has been given without stint by hosts of our citizens in every walk of life.

"It is not by accident that Greater Boston has come to have the largest community fund in the country."

WE'RE ALL FOR IT!

The national defense program is going forward with a rush and we're all for it.

It will take time, of course, but everyone is going to do his part.

Our job is your home.

Months ago our buyers were busy, making tremendous purchases at low prices.

This fine quality furniture is now in our big warehouses.

Frankly, it is worth much more today but while it lasts you can buy anything we have at present low levels on easy budget terms.

As long as it jibes with national defense, we will exert every effort to get you the home furnishings you want, when you want them at our usual low prices.

In cases where this policy conflicts with defense we know that you feel as we do, the important thing is AMERICA FIRST!

N. E. Council Head Asks Britain's Post-War Aims

PROVIDENCE, March 14—Peace preparedness vied with national defense and aid to England plans today as a distinguished list of speakers addressed the quarterly meeting of the New England Council at the Biltmore Hotel here.

Ralph E. Flanders, president of the council, called on England to commit itself to some clear statement of post-war purposes. He said:

"The betrayed British people and the once-bitten American people have the right to demand this of the British government. It is not necessary to draw this picture in fine detail. It is necessary to draw it broadly and forcibly; and it is necessary to draw it now.

"These are not war aims. The war aim is to vanquish the enemy. These are peace aims, which give the war aims their vitality and force.

"This is the second time we have had to come to the rescue of England; and this time, far more than in 1917, that nation's desperate need is a result of its own folly."

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown University, called for breakdown of the political barriers that interfere with the world's economic life.

The first choice, he said, in framing a peace policy must be between an organization of the world upon the principle of exclusive states.

Each of these, Dr. Wriston said, in seeking a peace goal must recognize their interdependence, surrendering the goal of autarchy—economic, racial and moral.

Terms available for supplies as probably in very good shape, Dr. Hugh P. Baker, president of the Massachusetts State College and chairman of the council's committee on agriculture and forestry, said a labor shortage would affect supplies and prices almost immediately.

He said that national defense required an abundance of food and that the United States would be called upon immediately to supply Great Britain and other countries with greatly increased quantities.

Robert I. Mehornay, director of defense contracts for the office of production manager, discussed problems related to production of necessary war supplies for Britain and arms for U. S. defense.

EVENING AMERICAN FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1941

BRITAIN GETS TROOPS READY TO INVADE

LONDON, March 14 (AP)—Britain was disclosed today to be equipping invasion troops for use against both Germany and Italy. These units would be landed by armored invasion barges carrying some 30 men each. The front of the barges are something like a steel shield with 18 portholes for fast-firing guns.

The water-borne troops would be protected by coordinated barges from navy guns and attack bombers. An observer put together a picture of the invasion force from details disclosed during maneuvers against mock invasion troops a month ago and given out piecemeal in connection with the recent raid on Foloten Island off Norway and parachute descents on Italy.

These observers pointed out that development of an American shock force would make possible quick transition from active defense to offense when the time comes.

That time, they say, will be when the British air force achieves such technical and numerical superiority that it can bomb Berlin in daylight day after day without exceptional proportionate losses.

Although publication of details of the training and equipment of the invasion troops naturally is forbidden, it is permitted to say that they have exceptional fire power.

It was not disclosed whether amphibian or air-borne tanks had been constructed.

It is known that the men composing the invasion units have been picked from the best physical specimens in the British and Allied armies.

One recent test required members of a "shock" unit to make a forced march 20 miles and charge up a hill at the end.

The men are trained to go 24 to 43 hours without sleep and live for days on iron rations.

McNutt Main Speaker At Round Table Lunch

Many of Boston's most prominent men will be on hand Monday when Paul V. McNutt, the man who might have run addresses the St. Patrick's Day Hearst Round Table luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce.

Now federal social security administrator, the Indiana Hoosier looks after the millions who receive old age pensions from the government, as well as young people served by the NYA and the boys of the CCC.

Administrator McNutt, who would have been a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president if President Roosevelt had decided not to seek a third term, will discuss "Crises—Past and Present."

Listed among prominent Bostonians who have already accepted invitations to the luncheon are Mayor Tobin, Police Commr. Timilty, National Administrator John Donovan, Postmaster Peter F. Tague, U. S. Marshal J. Henry Goheen, WPA Administrator Denis Delaney and U. S. Atty. Edmund J. Branden.

On his arrival here Monday morning McNutt will be met and breakfasted by Elliott Niles, Boston businessman and friend.

During the day McNutt, accompanied by Niles, will pay courtesy calls on Gov. Saltonstall and Mayor Tobin.

Following the luncheon, McNutt will entrain for Providence where he will be guest speaker at the St. Patrick's Day banquet of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick in response to an invitation by Gov. Harold J. McGrath, of Rhode Island.

The one-time governor of Indiana will discuss defense problems while he is in Boston.

British Massing For Balkan Coup

By CAPT. JOHN H. CRAIG
U. S. MARINE CORPS, RETIRED
Written Especially for International News Service

Reports and rumors from half a dozen capitals in southeast Europe and the Balkans center around a gathering British offensive in the Mediterranean theater of war to take the play away from the anticipated German spring drive in that area.

Immediately after the Nazi occupation of Bulgaria two weeks ago, Rome reported information of the landing of 100,000 British troops at Salonika. This proved greatly exaggerated, but at intervals thereafter dispatches from Bulgaria and Yugoslavia quoted rumors of the arrival of British detachments at Salonika and elsewhere. The strategic island of Sicily has also been mentioned as possible goal of a British drive.

Correspondents with the British Imperial Army of the Nile have hinted at important concentrations and ambitious plans on the part of Gen. Wavell and his staff. London has refused comment on such rumors, but where there is so much smoke there is likely to be fire.

WOULD CHECKMATE HITLER

A British stroke in the Balkans just now would be supremely good strategy, providing it could be driven home with force enough to insure the establishment of a permanent fighting spot in Greece or European Turkey.

In a technical military way, it would take the initiative away from the Nazis.

Unquestionably, Hitler's plans for action in the Balkans are now complete in every detail and troops are posted to carry them out. A surprise British expedition of sufficient force, landing in the Balkans, might send these flying out the window and necessitate complete a redistribution of Nazi troops and supplies that would take weeks.

Psychological gains from a British stroke might be even greater than its military value. Greece and Turkey would be encouraged to fight with hope of success. New encouragement would be given to the Yugoslavs to resist German demands. The long hoped-for Balkan front of Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia might become a reality.

BIG FORCE IN ENGLAND

British forces of the Nile army reputedly number about 12 divisions—only six of which, two of them mechanized, composed of Australian and British troops, are equipped for war against a Nazi foe. Six divisions would total only about 100,000 men, and probably no all of them could be spared.

Lut in the British Isles are about 150 divisions, at least half of them highly trained. From this force British home authorities might well decide to detach a dozen divisions for a Balkan thrust, especially as Hitler's long-threatened all-out invasion of England seems to grow less likely. That would make a force that might do great deeds.

Britain has done things as daring before and succeeded. A successful gamble on this scale in the Balkans might charge the whole course of the war.

Today, Biggs was in another hospital, getting treatment for stomach pains.

Beery Cleared in 'Holdup' Suit

LOS ANGELES, March 14 (INS)—Film Actor Wallace Beery won today in a $400,000 false arrest suit brought against him and certain members of the Beverly Hills police department by the actor's former protegee, Allan Whitney. Superior Judge Charles S. Burnett in thanking the jury for their "eminently fair verdict" declared: "If ever there was a case tried before me that was a holdup—that is, an attempt by an individual to enrich himself—it was this case."

Whitney, whom the actor befriendled 15 years ago, charged that Beery had him arrested in November, 1939, after telling officers he was a "born criminal."

CIVIES FOR DIPLOMATS

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 11 (AP)—The Foreign Ministry ordered Chilean diplomats today to wear "democratic civilian dress" and to avoid wearing uniforms except before foreign governments "where it is absolutely required."

EVER HEAR of "sizzlemanship"?

It's salesmanship carried to the nth degree, the sort of selling magic which turns failure into success. So say the experts, who add that house-to-house salesmen these days don't have such an easy time of it unless they have plenty of "sizzlemanship" on tap.

In The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with this coming Sunday's Advertiser, Briant Bando, nationally known sales and advertising consultant, tells you how the right approach may turn out as important as All Baba's "Open Sesame!"

SAVING SNOWFLAKES

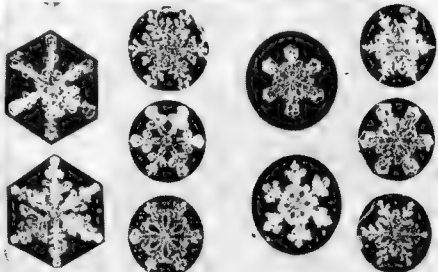

Research Worker Illustrates Unique Method

Vincent Schaefer Awaits Snowflake, Toothpick Ready

Next Step Is Placing Drop of Formvar on Flake

Hardening of Solution Preserves Flakes ... As These

Beauty from Sky—Vincent Schaefer of the General Electric research laboratory in Schenectady illustrates his method of preserving snowflakes. All that's required for Schaefer's captivating pursuit are a few drops of a solution of formvar, a toothpick, a glass slide and the snowflake. When flake falls, it's placed in solution on glass slide with a toothpick ... another drop of formvar is added ... and job is completed when solution hardens.

Wanderer—While Queen Elizabeth busies herself admiring and approving a cotton frock worn by a hapful youngster, another little girl model (left) wanders about the huge room in which the dresses were modeled ... and is shown as she almost ventured into King George's private room. However, she read sign ... and halted.

Charmer

From Hollywood comes this picture of Irish Peggy Diggins, promising filmstress, showing the lovely lass taking it easy (or is she?). She's a former Gotham model.

Garden Trees Get Clipped

HUMANITARIANISM AT WORK

Medical Supplies Packed for Britain's Allies

For Warriors—Bound for Greece, Africa and Nova Scotia, crates of medicine are checked, packed and sealed at the New York headquarters of the Medical and Surgical Supply Committee of America. Organization was formed by a number of doctors for the purpose of sending much-needed supplies to Britain and her allies.

"Ugliest"—John Wulsin is named "most unattractive" member of the chorus of the new Hasty Pudding show, "One on the House," by Contest Judge Marie Alice Swain, a model, and receives her congratulations and prize of a bunch of carrots.

TWINS appear prominently in the news of the current week.

In Darby, Pa., two children—an eight-pound boy and a seven-pound girl—are born three minutes after the death of their 25-year-old mother.

Further South, in Mt. Airy, N. C., twin great-grandsons of Chang and Eng, the original Siamese twins, are entering their fourth day of life.

The Darby, Pa., "miracle" is a tribute to medical science; a generation ago such a birth would have been regarded as impossible, and the children's lives would have been lost with their mother's.

EVERY MOTHER WOULD LIKE TO HAVE THESE

But Twin Babies Occur Only Once in 87 Births

Mention of Mt. Airy will cause our oldest readers to remember that master showman, P. T. Barnum, who introduced Chang and Eng to America after he had presented the famous brothers to most of the crowned heads of Europe.

The bodies of the pair were joined together by a mass of tissue, which eminent specialists of the time dared not sever.

In spite of this, Chang and Eng grew to be about five feet tall, and, like normal boys, learned to walk, run and swim.

When they left Barnum's circus, they retired to their Dixie farm, married sisters, and had a number of children.

It was said that near the end of their lives, the brothers became enemies and refused to speak to each other until a few hours before death claimed them.

SPEAKING OF TWINS, people frequently say: "Is the tendency to have multiple births inherited?"

In view of the fact that the little boys born down South are descendants of the original Siamese pair, thousands are sure to ask that question again.

Reputable authorities generally uphold the inheritance theory. Records kept over a long period of years in this country and Britain indicate that twins are common in every generation of some families and practically unknown in others.

Records also show that if the father belongs to a "twin" family, his twins are apt to look alike.

But if the twin history is on the mother's side, the twins are generally no more alike than average brothers and sisters.

MANY ALSO ASK: "What are our chances of becoming parents of twins?"

The distinguished Dr. W. W. Greulich collected data on more than 121,000,000 births occurring in 21 countries.

He found that there had been 1,408,912 twin births, 15,733 triplets and 179 quadruplets. On this basis he concluded that twins may be expected once in 87 confinements, triplets once in 8745, and quadruplets once in every 552,000.

Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher of Johns Hopkins University, later discovered that about 30 per cent of all twins are identical—that is, having the same looks and sex—whereas the remaining 70 per cent are fraternal or unlike twins.

He also learned that twins are most common in Denmark, occurring once in 63 births and least common in Colombia, occurring once in 250 births.

The Dionne sisters of Callander, Ontario, Canada, are the only living quintuplets.

Before their birth on May 28, 1934, no single quintuplet survived more than a month, and the longest period for all five babies to live was a week.

History records but six authentic cases of sextuplets, the most recent in the year 1903.

On The Side

A NEW RIBBON in the type-writer is so great a joy to a hard working young fellow like myself I think I will have one every week. Life seems especially pleasant to me this morning. I had ham and eggs and corn bread and coffee for breakfast, am smoking a good cigar, have a new ribbon in my typewriter, by my side is a large box of matches and two pencils and it looks as if I will be through work in time for the first race, in which I have a certain winner. I just paused to render in a loud voice a few lines of that ditty: "I Get Along Without You Very Well." The pup came in, looked at me, wagged his tail and went out. I guess he went to the kitchen and said to the domestic engineer: "The boss feels pretty good this morning. Maybe he'll take me for a long walk."

ASIDES: The six best actresses in Hollywood is what Mrs. Blanche Walker of Pittsburgh selects and I am inclined to agree with her choice which is: (1) Barbara O'Neill; (2) Marie Ouspenskaya; (3) Bette Davis; (4) Greer Garson; (5) Danielle Darrieux; (6) Margaret Sullivan... Writes Al Bryan: "You suggest a song 'London Bridge Ain't Falling Down.' I have written a number with that title. You may remember me: 25 years ago I wrote a song titled, 'I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier'." The first Major League ball player to enlist in the United States Army in World War No. 1 was Hank Gowdy. I believe the first film star to enlist in the same war was "Buster" Keaton. Who recalls what other Hollywood stars joined the Army at that time... An entry in the great four liner city poem contest:

Here's to the town of Chicago,
The home of the Sox and the Cubs
Where cocktails are two bits a copy
In all the very best pubs.

ANSWER MAN: Met an old journalistic pal who is now a quiz expert; knows all the answers genius; an ask me another wizard. He began ribbing me about my daily effort calling me "a whimsy addict." What could I do but come back at him with something. So I snapped: "Name the six last Vice-Presidents to see who pays for the refreshments." He couldn't do it. So I continued: "What is a zobo?"; "what is the difference between wool and worsted?"; "where is immortality mentioned in the Bible?"; "what is the record for consecutive base hits in the Major Leagues?"; "what is the origin of the saying 'when Greek meets Greek'?"; "who wrote the song 'Home on the Range'?"; "what baseball pitcher originated the spit-ball?" He couldn't answer one of these queries.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

GOLDEN BEACH, Fla., Thursday—Our days continue to be bright and sunny and the moon is so glorious at night that it seems a pity not to be eighteen again and subject to its influence. We have had one or two showers, but they were over quickly and everything seemed to be greener afterwards.

On Tuesday afternoon Ignace Paderewski drove down from Palm Beach to call on me. He had gone there to attend a concert and evidently had enjoyed his evening. It was very kind of him to want to come to see me, but I felt rather guilty that he should take so much trouble.

The last two years have not been happy ones for him, with the storm clouds gathering everywhere and the danger coming ever closer to his beloved Poland. I think when you have given as much of yourself as he has to his country, it must be bitter indeed to see all your world thrown away and apparently lost because of the cruel ambitions of one man.

I DO NOT suppose, however, that any really good work is ever lost. Somewhere the seed remains and the influence is felt in the future. But for a time at least, all that Paderewski has done as a statesman must seem to him wiped out.

One feels that these years have sapped his strength, but his eyes are as keen as ever and they look at you with an expression which is indicative of the same courage we have grown to expect from this gentleman.

We were interested, too, in his young secretary, who told us a good deal about his travels in South America. I was happy to have this opportunity of seeing once again a very great man and shall take his message to the President when I return to Washington.

YESTERDAY afternoon I went with the supervisor of the Florida migratory camps, Mr. Paul Van Der Schouw, to see one of the new farm security camps just being completed at Pompano.

On the way up, we passed through a great deal of farming land where beans, tomatoes and peppers all seemed to be ripening. In some places the workers have had a hard time because there has been so much water they have not been able to make crops, but around here I gather that the crops have been fair.

We drove by the houses which are at present being used by the workers, and I was impressed all over again by the lack of organization and sanitation surrounding these living quarters.

The new government camp seems to me better planned than the old ones and an improvement in every way.

None of the houses have accommodations for more than four families. Most of them are for two-family use. The clinic and assembly hall are very adequate for the size of the camp.

Broadway Medley

MISS BARRIE DEFIES SUPERSTITION

Wendy Barrie

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, March 14—Jean Gabin, star of "Pepe Le Moko," was scheduled to make a broadcast last week, but was unable to do it, because he became a flu victim. Wendy Barrie agreed to substitute. . . . After the broadcast, Gabin phoned Miss Barrie, and invited her to see "Lady in the Dark" with him. "But in France," he added, "it's customary for the lady to send a token, to be returned when the couple meets" . . . Wendy could find no suitable token, and so she sent him an anklet which Macoco, the South American millionaire, once had given her, and which bore the inscription: "Wear this and you'll never break your leg" . . . She sent it off, left the studio, walked outside—and crashed to the sidewalk.

FAME: Two autograph hunters waited at the backstage door of "Flight to the West," for Betty Field to appear. The porter there told the two girls to be patient, because the young star always rested before leaving the theater . . . But the girls seemed restless and held a consultation. Then one of them asked the porter: "Do you ever see Miss Field . . . Yes, every night," he informed . . . "Do you know her? Does she talk with you?" the fan continued . . . "Yes," said the porter . . . The impatient girls conferred again—and then extended pen and paper to the porter. "In that case," they told him, "here—give us your autograph."

HOME: The newspapers recently announced that Luise Rainer, the screen star, rented an apartment in the East Seventies. Miss Rainer made an unusual discovery this week. She had rented this apartment only because another one which she preferred was too expensive . . . The other one was at Beckman place, in the Fifties—a five-story house, which has only two apartments, a triplex and a duplex. Miss Rainer wanted to rent the triplex, but the cost was too high. This week she discovered that if she had rented it she would have moved into a house where her only neighbor would be a young man who became a tenant there a few months ago—a young man who works there quietly and whose address is known only to a few people. He's Clifford Odets, her ex-husband.

CHANGE: Hazel Scott of Cafe Society Uptown was a prize student at the Juilliard School. There she studied the piano with Dr. Noble . . . Saturday night her former teacher came to the night club, heard her play and was delighted with her accomplishments . . . "From now on," said Dr. Noble, "I'm going to tell all my friends to come here instead of going to Carnegie Hall" . . . "Except on April 23," Miss Scott told him. "That's when I play at Carnegie."

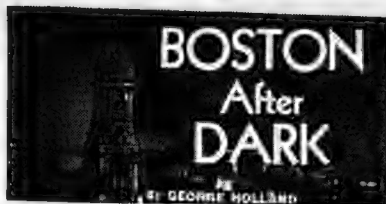

GRATITUDE: When Elmer Rice presented his Pulitzer Prize winner, "Street Scene," he was approached by one of the stage hands in the theater who was interested in the social aspects of the play . . . One of the principal roles in "Street Scene" was that of a stage hand who becomes a seducer and a murderer . . . "This is a wonderful play, Mr. Rice," said the stage hand after witnessing a rehearsal. "For the first time, you've put one of us on the real stage—and made us look human."

COMPARISON: Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., took his New York State bar examination last week. After it was over, the young man who had sat next to Franklin decided that this was an opportunity which might never come to him again—an opportunity to learn just what's happening. "Please tell me," he asked, "what about the international situation?" . . . "It's just as tough," Roosevelt told him, "as the exam we've just had."

AILMENT: Russel Crouse never required the services of any doctor until recently—after "Life With Father," which he wrote with Howard Lindsey, and "Arsenic and Old Lace," which he and Lindsey produced, became hit shows . . . Crouse now is being treated by six doctors. "I'm trying to find out what's wrong with me," he stated yesterday. "Why I suddenly go blind in the middle of Broadway" . . . "Have you any idea of what causes it?" Crouse was asked . . . "Confidentially," he confessed, "I think it's just Broadway."

BETTY FIELD

IF HARVARD'S Hasty Pudding Club actors aren't careful, the boys will lose their amateur standing . . . They played a "repeat" engagement, shepherded by William Holbrook, the director, at the Coconut Grove . . . The occasion was the weekly Thursday "guest star night."

THE INTERESTING BACKGROUND of the Harvard occupation of the Rialto is that Nicky Alpert, who digs frantically throughout the year to round up talent for these weekly fiestas, turned toward the Cambridge amateurs in desperation . . . (And what a pleasant surprise he received) . . . No one remembers so slim a season as the current one in the so-called "living theater"—locally we mean.

AS MOST OF MR. ALPERT'S "guest" performers have been actors and actresses playing in these legitimate theaters, his friends have watched him grow grayer by the month as he tangled with the problem of staging "celebrity" nights with Grade-A celebrities as scarce as Frank Leahys.

THE BOSTON MAESTRO has posted spies of his own near the Broadway booking offices to unearth information about potential attractions for the cavernously empty Boston theaters . . . Their reports have been dismal . . . "Your Loving Son" is the only new show on immediate horizon . . . (And it played Maribhead last summer). But thereafter—phooie! . . . And only seven shows are rehearsing in New York.

ED WYNN, INCIDENTALLY, was asked—perhaps begged would be a better word—to play a Boston theater with his "Boys and Girls Together" . . . A booking jany elsewhere—believe it or not—forced Ed and his company to lay-off for a full week . . . But the canny Mr. Wynn figured correctly that his musical had played Boston in its try-out last fall . . . And that it was too early to play a return engagement.

SPEAKING OF THE INCOME TAX—and the more we speak of it the easier it may make it for Collector Tom Hassett and his staff (tomorrow being the day)—Sammy Walsh, who scored such a grand success recently at The Versailles, forwards from Florida a story about the fellow who overpaid his tax by one cent and asked for a rebate.

UNCLE SAM AGREED with the claim (according to the story) and a check refunding him exactly one cent was sent the taxpayer . . . So he went to the bank, and asked a teller to cash it . . . The banking chap scrutinized the unusual check—a minuscule one for our government to be bothered with—and was duly amazed at its smallness . . . After pondering for a minute or two, the teller said: "It's okay, I guess. How will you have it?"

MR. AND MRS. JOHN J. KEARNEY
They're Vacationing at Palm Island

THE TAXPAYER ANSWERED: "What do you mean, how will I have it?" . . . The reply was: "Heads or tails?"

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: The boys along Film Row, who are rooting for Jack Goldstein in the former United Artist's press-chief's comeback, will be pleased to know that John, a Boston boy, is now regarded as top-man in the exploitation department of Walt Disney's "Fantasia" . . . After his splendid showing in Boston, Jack was shipped to Detroit—on a trouble-shooting assignment . . . He performed beautifully.

BEN GAINES HAS DECIDED to make an all-year-round spot of his Pago-Pago Room at the Miami Beach Dempsey-Vanderbilt . . . Another Gaines enterprise, the Miami Beachcomber, is clicking after a slow start . . . And Lou Walters' Latin Quarter at Palm Island (where Johnny J. Kearney, boss of the Boston Central Labor Union and Mrs. Kearney were among those present the other night) continues to lead the town in receipts . . . As most of Boston knows, the Latie Quarter is of Boston origin.

Hollywood Today

PRIVATE PREVIEW FOR HIS GRACE

By Louella O. Parsons

29

EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1941

HOLLYWOOD, March 14 The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are to have the first preview of George Bernard Shaw's "Major Barbara" at Nassau. All of the swank society of the Eastern seaboard and the islands will assist and the proceeds will be turned over to the British War Relief.

It seems Gabriel Pascal, the producer, showed the Windsors "Pygmalion," the first Shaw movie, when they were in exile in France and the Duke complimented Pascal, saying, "Will you promise to show me your next picture?" So the producer, who is in New York now, got in touch with the Duke and the preview was arranged.

"Major Barbara," again stars Wendy Hiller with Robert Morley in one of the principal roles. It was made in the midst of bombing blitzkriegs on London and under extremely trying circumstances but Shaw again gave it his approval. We'll see it when United Artists release it after the Nassau preview and after it is shown at Miami Beach, March 25.

GINGER ROGERS has been a very sick girl. The excitement of winning the Academy Award plus an extreme nervousness, has kept her off the set of "Tom, Dick and Harry" for over a week. Little has been said about her illness and probably it wouldn't have become known if she hadn't failed to appear at the motion picture mothers' party of which her mother, Mrs. Lena Rogers, is the president.

Everyone knows how Ginger adores Lena and when she didn't come to the party her illness was revealed.

"Tom, Dick and Harry" is the picture which Garson Kanin will finish before he is drafted in the Army. Ginger is expected to return to the studio Monday.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Norma Shearer has been in New York shopping for two days; the Duncan Renaldos have made a date with the stork and so have the Jack Dawns. He is M-G-M's makeup expert; Lila Lee is returning to Hollywood to make a screen comeback.

Bruce Cabot, stepping out with a girl named Jean Ames, cracked, "Wouldn't you know I'd fall for a girl named Ames?" His ex-wife's name is Adrienne Ames; Annabella is set for a test at Paramount for Maria in "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

Pat Walthall, daughter of "The Little Colonel" and the former Mary Charleston, and Mario Cuelo were wed today. They will live in South America; Max Gordon is in town to discuss "My Sister Eileen"; Florence Rice and John McClain talking things over at the Brown Derby.

J. Carrol Naish will surprise audiences throughout the country when he sings on his personal appearance tour and does a comedy act. He is usually seen as a heavy.

I AM SURPRISED that Hal Wallis didn't think of looking on his own lot sooner to find an actor to play the role of the doctor in "Kings Row." Today Hal looked around and who do you think he discovered? Ronald Reagan, if you please.

Ronald would be excellent as the doctor and I hope nothing will interfere with him getting that part. He was so good as Gipp in "Knute Rockne—All American" that the critics went out of their way to pat him on the back. Every role he has played has been outstanding even though some were only bits.

NOW I KNOW I've heard everything in preview junkets. Warners are out-Warneting themselves in staging a week-end jaunt aboard the pride and joy of our Merchant Marine, the "America" on which "The Sea Wolf" will be shown. Surprise, surprise—guys who the guests will be? Yes, none other than the local critics and writers who have been seeing more of the world than Gulliver in his travels.

First stop will be at the Last Chance Saloon in Oakland where Jack London used to get color for his novels—and then the entourage moves on to Sonoma for a barbecue dinner at London's old home as guest of his widow, Mrs. Charmian London. The whole thing will be topped off by a ball in San Francisco Saturday night.

LYONS PROSECUTION ENDS MAYOR WILL DENY ALL CHARGES ON STAND

commissioner, was in his second day of testifying in the trial that has now been running five days. The courtroom in which Lyons and Mannos, former head of the defunct Canton Mutual Liability Co., are being tried on 16 indictments alleging 66 counts of conspiracy and seeking and accepting bribes, was only half full today. Previously it had been packed.

Under cross examination by Leahy, Greco was asked:
Q—After Jan. 16, 1939, you say you made no payments to Mannos but to Lyons, and between Jan. 16 and August you made several payments to the mayor. A—Yes.

QUIZZED ON CHECKS

Q—You considered yourself in the mayor's good graces? A—Yes.

Q—Did you consider the mayor under obligations to you? A—I don't know.

Q—On Aug. 19, 1940, did you tell the mayor you should receive 10 per cent for the Cambridge High and Latin School job instead of six per cent? (Six per cent is the standard architect's commission.) A—Yes. The mayor said I couldn't have it.

Leahy then returned to identification of the checks Greco testified yesterday he cashed before making payments to Lyons and Mannos. "How about the check for the $3000 payment you said you made in January, 1939?" Leahy asked. Greco said he couldn't find it.

"It would be impossible to find it," he said, "because I didn't make the whole payment out of a check. I was building up a reserve cash kitty at home and I used to make part of the payment out of that and part out of the check."

Leahy reminded Greco of a check he had testified to receiving from the city of Cambridge March 17, 1939, for payment for work, in the amount of $15,858.

"Where's the payment check on that?" he asked.

TELLS OF PAYMENTS

After thumbing through cancelled checks, Greco produced one dated in March, made out for $1000 to himself; another dated in March made out for $125 to himself; one in April made out for $60 to his wife, and one in May made out for $75 to himself.

"That totals $1260," Leahy said. Checks dated from March 17 to July 7—a period in which he had testified he made two $2500 payments—came to $1715.

Checks dated from March 17 to December, during which Greco had testified he made payments totaling about $21,000 to Lyons and Mannos, totaled $5849.

Then Atty. Herbert F. Callahan, counsel for Mannos, began his cross-examination. He took up Greco's meeting with Mannos in a Boston restaurant in 1937; Greco's subsequent introduction to Lyons; and his call at Mannos' office for the purpose of getting work in Cambridge.

Q—You went to Mannos' office in the Stadler building with the understanding you'd pay a commission to get the work? A—Yes. If I had to, and one-third was the limit, I'd only done that once before.

Q—You were sent by Mannos to Lyons, and you got the Cambridge firehouse job? A—Yes.

RARES PROTEST

Q—Then you talked to Mannos about paying him a 2 per cent commission? A—Yes. I wouldn't call it a commission.

Q—What would you call it? A—Contribution to Lyons' campaign fund.

Q—You didn't care who the money went to if you got the work? A—No.

Q—When did you wake up to the fact these weren't campaign contributions? A—I guess I haven't waked up yet.

Q—You paid out thousands of dollars without knowing what it was for? A—Yes.

Q—You have an attorney, here in the courtroom? A—Yes.

Q—What do you want him for? Moral support? A—Yes. Moral support.

Q—Did you protest at any time in 1939 about making payments to Mannos? A—Yes I did. I kicked like the dickens.

Q—What contributions were you making then? A—On primary night that year I had to pay out $600—for campaign expenses—on the promise of work. In the fall I had to pay out $300, $500 and $700. That was just before that insurance company closed.

Q—What payment did you make to Mannos? A—He came to me and told me he had to have $500. That was the $500 payment. He didn't say what it was for. I had some money in my pocket and I took it out and gave him $500.

Q—Did you say it was for the Beacon Insurance agent? A—No.

State May Give $5000 To Brockton Fire Fund

While several parts of the nation expressed sympathy with cash donations, Gov. Saltonstall and his Executive Council today were weighing a suggestion designed to add additional thousands of dollars to the Brockton fire disaster relief fund.

From Reps. Joseph H. Downey and Charles McCaffrey of Brockton came a plea that the Executive Council order a transfer or donation of $5000 to the Firemen's Relief Fund of Brockton.

While funeral services for the 13th victim of the Brockton theater fire were being arranged for tomorrow morning, officials reported that contributions toward a fund for the widows and orphans had mounted to more than $25,000.

The Hartford, Ct., police post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, announced today they had appropriated $25.

From the Reno, Nev., fire department came $50, while the department at Okmudge, Okla., contributed $15.

Pvt. Bartholomew Herlihy, who died Wednesday night, was the 13th victim. There are still eight injured firemen in the hospital.

Thousands of Brockton mourners attended the funeral for the 11th and 12th victims, Pvts. Daniel C. O'Brien and Roy A. McKereghan.

A military funeral was accorded Pvt. O'Brien, with members of Brockton Post, A. L., taking part. The funeral was from his late home, 35 Division st., with high mass of requiem celebrated in St. Edward's Church by the Rev. John J. Flynn.

In the afternoon services for Pvt. McKereghan were held in the Sampson Funeral Home by the Rev. L. W. Kelle, pastor of the Warren ave. Baptist Church. Overcome by grief and under the care of a physician, the widow was unable to attend. A son, Roy A., Jr., a soldier at Camp Edwards, was to have been married tomorrow to Miss Avis E. Olson of Brockton.

No wonder we're staging a SPRING JUBILEE

Get into the Spring of Spring
*Buick Special Convertible Coupe with Press-A-Button Automatic Top, $1138

WHAT you see here is something more than the very picture of bright and thrilling action and trim fresh styling.

It is something even more than the most talked-about automobile in America—it is the most outstanding Buick in all our long history.

It is selling at record pace—making valued new friends among people heretofore unacquainted with Buick—and it not only holds fourth place in the country as a whole, but in the nation's No. 1 automobile market it holds second place, topped only by one of the lowest-priced cars.

Such a record, when made by a car of Buick's size, power and price, really calls for jubilee, so we're staging one.

In all Buick showrooms, starting March 8, you'll find special displays in fittingly springlike surroundings where you can see, admire, sit in and probe into the year's unquestioned Biggest Hit.

Here you can get the whole story about FIREBALL design that squeezes more good and more mileage out of gasoline—here you can get all the facts (and straight) about Compound

Carburetion,* and how it ups mileage as much as 10% to 15% over last year's engines of the same size.

Here you'll see and can try out the very newest Buicks, the four new, more compact Buick SPECIALS that wrap up FIREBALL straight-eight life and ginger in an easy-handling package that is actually roomier inside than some sixes that cost you more.

In a word, here you see the values that set the standard by which all cars are being judged today.

Why not drop in and browse around? The latch string's out—you will be very welcome any time.

*Optional at extra cost on the Buick SPECIAL, standard equipment on all other series

TURKEY HELD GOOD BUY IN HUB MARKET; FRUIT AND VEGETABLE PRICES ARE HIGHER

The turkey, whose debut before housewives last November created the usual sensation, was back in the limelight at Faneuil Hall market today. New Hampshire birds from 9 to 15 pounds and selling at 35 to 40 cents a pound proved the outstanding week-end buy.

Vegetable and fruit prices are slightly high with green and wax beans at 30 cts. a lb.; new red cabbage, 8 cts.; lima beans, 20 cts.; native lettuce, 13 cts.; beat greens, 40 cts. a pk.; dandelions, 30 cts.; peppers, 45 cts.; cranberries, 25 cts.

Seedless South American grapes are 35 cts. a lb.; white grapes, 30 cts.; black grapes, 35 cts.; Argentine pears, 60 cts. a doz.; bananas, 8 cts. a lb.

Forequarters of fresh spring lamb are 30 cts. a lb.; hindquarters, 60 cts.; legs of lamb and legs and loin, 30 cts.; rich lamb chops, 50 cts.; kidney lamb chops, 60 cts.; lamb flank for stewing, 5 cts.

LEGS OF VEAL

Legs of veal are 35 cts. a lb.; rump of veal, 30 and 35 cts.; veal cutlets, 60 cts.; rib veal chops, 40 cts., and kidney chops, 50 cts.

Rib roast of pork, middle cuts, is 28 cts. a lb.; pork chops, 30 cts. Top of the round is 50 cts. a lb.; bottom of round, 30 to 40 cts.; tenderloin and porterhouse steak, 75 cts.; rib roast of beef, first two ribs, 50 cts.; first three ribs, 45 cts. and last two ribs, 30 cts.

Brisket of corn beef is 30 to 35 cts. a lb.; middle ribs, 25 cts.; whole and half hams, 30 cts.; fancy saddle of mutton, 50 cts.; legs of mutton, 25 cts.; fresh calves' liver, 75 cts.; freshly ground hamburger, 30 cts. and up.

FISH MODERATE

Poultry dealers are featuring broilers, 35 cts.; chickens, 35 cts.; capons, 40 cts.; ducks, 22 to 25 cts.; smoked turkeys, ready to serve, 75 cts. a lb.

Fish remains moderately priced with cod at 12 cts. a lb.; haddock, 15 cts.; finnan haddie, 25 cts.; shrimp, 35 cts.; halibut, 50 cts.; cape scallops, 75 cts.; sea scallops, 40 cts.; jack aback, 35 cts.; roe shad, 60 cts.; smelts, 30, 40 and 50 cts.; clams, $1; select oysters, 90 cts. a lb.

q.t. small oysters, 70 cts.; apaw, 30 cts.; smoked salmon, 60 cts.; smoked bioster, 10 cts.; live lobsters, 55 cts. and boiled lobsters 85 cts.

Young American cheese is 29 cts. a lb.; sage, 30 cts.; mild, 30 cts.; coon, 40 cts.; cream, 38 cts.; domestic swiss, 45 cts.

Best tub butter is 40 cts. a lb.; 1/2 lb. prints, 45 cts.; 1/4 lb. prints, 45 cts.; 5 lb. box of light salted butter, 45 cts.

EGGS LOW

Eggs continue to remain low in price with large eggs at 32 cts. a doz.; medium, 27 cts., and West-erns, 25 cts.

Other fruits featured this week are Argentine nectarines, 50 cts. a doz.; pineapples, 20 to 30 cts.; cooking apples, 7 cts.; oranges, 40 to 60 cts. a doz.; grapefruit, 3 and 4 for 25 cts.; Comice pears, 90 cts.; Delicious apples, 50 cts.; alligator pears, 25 cts. each.

Celery is 30 cts. a bunch; squash, 7 cts.; Southern tomatoes, 22 cts.; iceberg lettuce, 15 cts.; rhubarb, 15 cts.; fresh artichokes, 10 cts.; peas, 15 cts.; scallions, 10 cts.; broccoli, 15 cts.; Florida Red Bliss potatoes, 8 cts.; Maine potatoes, 30 cts.; sweet potatoes, 8 cts.; romaine, 20 cts.; spinach, 25 cts.; watercress, 20 cts.; chives, 18 cts.; beets and carrots, 8 cts.; leeks, 12 cts.; endive, 65 cts.; cauliflower, 25 cts.

Liquor To Be Sold

In Hub on Monday

Liquor can be sold in Boston restaurants, taverns, hotels and clubs from 8 a. m. as usual on Monday. Evacuation Day, the State Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission ruled today.

Package stores, however, must remain closed until 1 p. m. in observance of the new legal holiday in Suffolk County. The same rules apply in Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop as parts of the county.

United Shoe Machinery Corporation

The directors of this Corporation have declared a dividend of 10¢ per share on the preferred capital stock. They have also declared a dividend of 5¢ per share on the common capital stock. The dividends on both preferred and common stock are payable April 1, 1941, to stockholders of record at the close of business March 15, 1941.

You Can Be Beautiful

Get the Jump on Spring

By ARLINE GOULD

GET THE JUMP on spring... you've already felt the first stirring of it in a quickened pace and a little, racing feeling between your ribs... so don't let the left-over blizzards daunt you. They'll melt into miniature rivers... for the sun's warmer... and you can really express this springtime feeling that's in you with a new "tulip time" make-up... and a "tulip time" fragrance that'll make heads and hearts turn in your direction!

Martin Pattern

Pattern 9667 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 yards 39-inch fabric and 2 yards lace edging. To get this pattern send 15c to Boston Evening American, Pattern Department, 232 West 18th st., New York, N. Y. Ten cents additional will bring you our newest Pattern Book.

Courtesy Tip

There's a certain type of woman who when seeing a group of her friends at a restaurant table just can't resist visiting them—and for too long a visit. The gentlemen, of course, rise when she comes to the table, and remain standing while the visitor stands. She shakes hands with those at table she knows. Maybe there are introductions to those she doesn't know. She talks on and on. She's probably in the way of the waiter or of other patrons trying to pass. Table sociality is suspended. The food is getting cold. Everyone is probably more than a bit uncomfortable, and the standing gentlemen may be feeling a bit conspicuous.

The one thing they all say about this new make-up color to go with the fragrance, and vice versa... is that it's so very gay! It's described as a bluish-red... nothing sweeter, more rosy pink, more youthful... than this bluish tint!

And we have a price tale to tell you in a moment, too... which will show you how you may go very high style in make-up and a new fragrance... and how inexpensively.

But first we want to tell about the perfumed cologne... which you'll snatch the moment you sniff it. The blossom-shaped bottle is large... and in it you'll wear that someone has captured every flower that blooms in the spring, but every one!

All the flowers meet in this fragrance, to make a dazzling, exciting cloud of scent... there's white hyacinth and blue violet, primrose and gillyflower, trailing arbutus and anemone, evening jasmine and asphodel, crocus, trillium, narcissus, lilac, garden pink and the brightness of tulips, too.

Now about the extraordinary prices... there is, actually, a 50 cent size in the lipstick... and the so-large cologne is but $1.50... and you may run through all the necessary glamorizers that are so dear to your heart, both things, for equally little money!

To learn about this springtime make-up and fragrance, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, weekdays except Saturday, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Friday, March 14, 1941

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY—You are clever, should be popular; scientifically inclined. Success lies ahead if you rightly use your splendid talents and ability. You need to cultivate directness in action, speed in execution when once you know the right direction—to proceed. Indecision and self-effacement are drawbacks. You absorb much mentally and retain that knowledge admirably. Cool judgment essential. Avoid a too domineering or stubborn attitude. Shun procrastination.

LUCKY NUMBER—Today's lucky number is 17.

LUCKY COLOR—Today's lucky color is mauve.

Send 15 cents and large self-addressed stamped envelope to Frances Drake, Boston Evening American, Box 1215, Boston, for an individual horoscope, personal guide and lucky calendar for the first six months of 1941, giving the day and month you were born.

Hostess Tip

By Mrs. Cornelius Beekman
Food should be passed in the order of its importance in the menu.

Smart Set Fashions

South-of-the-Border Pockets

YOU MAY not go for great gaucho hats that swoop down over your head... but you'll succumb to the smart, classic shirt-waist which splurges a Mexican motif over its great big pockets!

All that splashiness just serves to emphasize the delicate detail of the shoulder yoke and sleeves, fine tucks which trace little stripes. The vivid note on the teca crepe, which is in a worsted-like weave containing Eastman crimped acetate rayon, and comes in delectable tones, is the embroidering of the motifs in brilliant wool and beads.

Listen, World!

By DALE ROBINSON

WHERE DID that bad blunder of yours start? When did that sinking feud, which has poisoned your life for so long, first get going?

Did it start in some wrong done you, some unfair burden laid upon you? Chance are you think so, as most of us do. But you're wrong. Our misdeeds well miseries rarely start from outside.

They start in our own imagination.

They start in that distant day when we first allow ourselves to think of hate or revenge, jealousy, desire, fear or self-pity.

CURSEDNESS IS ALWAYS PREMEDITATED.

It always starts from some seed long sown in the secret places of our own hearts. We may not consciously realize that we have sown that seed of the nurturing it. But some day that hidden thought will spring into sudden and dreadful action which may warp our whole lives.

JOHN McCONKEY has said, "The place to most aim is at the gateway of the imagination." That's true of good as well as evil. We are what we think. The table beside you was built first in some man's imagination, before it ever took on tangible form. The utilities you use were formed vaguely in someone's vision years before they found their place on a blueprint.

The scientific discoveries which have halted the once ghastly epidemics of yellow fever and diphtheria were once mad speculations. And, by the same token, every crime in the calendar started in the same way, long before it found physical expression.

All creation, all action, for good or evil, begins at that "gateway of the imagination."

You wonder sometimes what you'll be doing a year or ten years from now. You'll be doing what you are imagining today! You'll be as brave or as cowardly, as true or as tricky, as gay or as grouchy, as virtuous or vile, as today's secret thought.

You're always looking for an opportunity to "make something of yourself." But you are making something of yourself every second of your life... you are building your own record... fixing your own fate... by the thoughts you think. And that building process extends beyond your own mind and body. It influences your environment; it determines your good or bad "luck."

STOP WORRYING so much about your looks, your etiquette, your personality. Keep watch instead of that seemingly unimportant thought which is sinking into your consciousness... striking root... beginning to grow. There at the gateway of your imagination, your life is being formed. GUARD THAT GATE!

RECIPE FOR DELICIOUS GINGER CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. ginger
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup buttermilk or sour milk

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Cream shortening, add sugar slowly and cream until fluffy. Stir in well-beaten egg and molasses. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, stirring well after each addition. Bake in a greased eight-inch square pan in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 30 minutes. Serve hot, plain or with whipped cream. Makes one square.

Don't Overlook the Succulent Oyster!

By MARTHA LEE

"SHELLFISH are fish that sink." This statement, in addition to being picturesque, is literally true in essentials, for the majority of the edible varieties of shellfish spend most or all of their lives at or near the bottom of the waters they inhabit. In other words, while "the fish that swim" get about a bit and see the sea, "fish that sink," while migratory to some extent, are in reality the homebodies of the fish world.

Shellfish contribute greatly to the country's food supply and probably no species is more generally avoided as food than the oyster. In America, before the arrival of the colonists, the Indians consumed large quantities of this delicacy as is attested by the huge mounds of oyster shells, often called "oyster middens," found among these abodes in some of our eastern states.

Today the oyster enjoys universal acceptance both as a staple item of food and as a delicacy. The sanitary conditions surrounding its cultivation, its handling at the point of origin and its transportation and marketing are today controlled by government agencies so that it is now possible for the consumer, in any section of the country, to obtain oysters in prime condition.

OYSTER COCKTAIL

Undoubtedly, one of the most popular uses for the oyster is in the cocktail. It's a kind of cocktail—one of the few—that goes to the tummy and not to the head, but, like the liquid cocktail, produces a feeling on the part of the consumer that "all's well with the world."

To prepare this cocktail, about 2 dozen thoroughly chilled oysters are required for 4 persons. For the sauce, take:

6 tbsp. tomato catsup
2 tbsp. horseradish
4 tsp. lemon juice
Celery salt and
Tobasco sauce to taste

The ingredients should be put into a jar or widemouth bottle and thoroughly shaken before being served. Use about 2 tablespoons of cocktail sauce for each serving of 1/2 dozen oysters. This is usually sufficient.

A good oyster stew is another of the kitchen's best productions. According to the cookery experts of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior, an oyster stew made with fresh oysters and fresh milk adds everything that is needed to provide a well-balanced, highly nutritious meal—the necessary vitamins, proteins, mineral salts, fats, etc. and in addition a delicious appetizing flavor. Such an oyster stew makes a splendid lunch for the children if they like it, and an excellent dish for anyone at any time.

OYSTER STEW

1 pint oysters
1/2 tsp. butter
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 quart milk, scalded
Paprika

Crackles of oyster shells. Pick over oysters, remove bits of shell and reserve liquor; add oysters to melted butter, season with salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce and cook until oysters are plump and edges begin to curl. Add hot milk and oyster liquor, and heat to boiling point. Sprinkle with paprika and serve at once with crackers. Makes about 4 servings.

OYSTER CASSEROLE

1 cup chopped mushrooms
8 to 10 small whole mushrooms
1/2 cup butter
1 cup fine cracker crumbs
1 1/2 pints oysters
1 cup milk
1/2 cup light cream
Paprika

Sauté all mushrooms in 2 tablespoons butter 2 minutes. Line bottom of greased casserole with 1/3 cup of crumbs, add a layer of chopped mushrooms and dot with 1 tablespoon butter. Add another layer of crumbs, then oysters, remaining chopped mushrooms and a final layer of crumbs. Pour milk, cream and remaining 5 tablespoons butter, melted, over top. Set casserole in a pan of water and bake in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) for 25 minutes. Stand whole mushrooms upright in crumbs, sprinkle with paprika and place under moderate broiler heat about 5 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Infant Saviour Guild Fashion Show

The annual Bridge and Fashion Show of the Guild of the Infant Saviour, postponed last week because of the storm, will be held on Saturday, March 22, in the ballroom and foyer of the Copley-Plaza. Mrs. Morgan T. Ryan, president, heads the active committee.

The Guild will also be represented by two tables at the Sale for the Blind on Monday, with Mrs. Humphrey Leo McCarthy as chairman. Her committee will meet Friday for coffee at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

Margaret M'Sweeney to Lecture Tuesday

Mrs. Moses Williams, chairman of the Women's Civic Federation, will present Margaret M'Sweeney, member of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, in a lecture on Tuesday. Miss M'Sweeney's talk will be given at 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Edwin S. Webster.

306 Dartmouth street. Her subject will be "Are Women Needed in Total Defense?" The Federation has also taken two tables on the opening day of the sale at the Blind Handicraft Shop, which is Monday. Mrs. John A. Moir is in charge.

SEE HOW EASY IT IS TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE EVERY TIME!

Whether or not you make good coffee is decided outside your kitchen. Take these three simple steps and you can hardly fail to make grand coffee every time . . .

First, choose the flavor you prefer—from one of A&P's three distinctive blends. Second, get fresh coffee—A&P Coffee sold only in the flavor-sealed bean. Third, tell the A&P clerk the kind of coffee pot you use, so your coffee can be Custom Ground exactly right for you.

Just take those three steps today and see the smiles when coffee's served tomorrow.

Smart Set Functions

By BETTY ALDEN

EDWARD CARHART ASHTON of Boston and Elizabeth Barker of New York are now Mr. and Mrs. . . . a surprise to the smart set who had expected to be bidden to a big wedding in June . . .

It was almost, but not quite, an elopement . . . the young couple, whose engagement was announced at the Yachtclub, had the five-day law waived and the knot tied on Monday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church . . .

It seems they found a house they liked . . . and they didn't care about a big wedding in June . . . so the young Ashtons now have a house in Egypt, 10 rooms no less . . .

Edward's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawrence Ashton, also have a house on the South Shore and his sister, Mrs. Thomas F. Sherman, will be a summer neighbor in Egypt . . .

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Barker Barker of Gracie sq., Brooklyn Heights, New York . . . and is a member of one of Gotham's very old families . . . her great-grandfather was Richard Field Haviland of the famous china firm

Chase-Tarbell Nuptials March 22

AT A FOUR-O'CLOCK CEREMONY in All Saint's Episcopal Church in Belmont on March 22, Dorothy Chase will become Mrs. George Grosvenor Tarbell, Jr. . . .

Dorothy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Grover Chase of Belmont, will have Gloria Caroline Watson of Belmont as her maid of honor . . .

Bridesmaids will be Mrs. Edward Fuller Chase of Cambridge, Mrs. John Carman of Lincoln; Louise Barr of Winchester, Mary O'Day and Mary Favorite of Brookline, and Mrs. Peter Thompson of Cambridge . . .

The bridegroom-elect, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Tarbell of Lincoln, will have Charles Lee Tarbell as best man . . . Ushers will be Paul Counihan, Edward Fuller Chase and Peter Thompson of Cambridge, Arthur Wallace Rice, Jr. and John Westover Carman of Lincoln, and William Paine Everts, Jr. of Chestnut Hill . . .

'Come Live With Me' Pleases Loew's Screen Audiences

Jimmy Stewart Kissless Hubby

By PEGGY DOYLE

"Come Live With Me" is another of those marvellous in-name-only teasers that keeps Hedy Lamarr and Jimmy Stewart apart for a good night on Loew's State and Orpheum screens at which show this week.

Hedy Lamarr, as you "Ecstasy" fans well know, can look mighty gorgeous even without the "15 eye-filling" diamond tiaras designed by an Italian master jeweler more beautiful than any Academy Award Winner. She can look more wonderful and elegant than he does as her kissless husband.

In the meantime, the information department knows about this marriage with a vengeance. Hedy is a Viennese princess in a picturesque apartment, the department unless she marries an American citizen. The only American she knows is Ian Hunter.

ALREADY MARRIED

She loves him and she'd marry him except that he is already married to Victor, a Viennese, best-dressed of best-dressed Adolphe Menjou in private life. In her fashion, the marriage but understanding Victor loves Ian and she won't let go unless she is certain the glamorous Hedy genuinely loves him.

Granted that the incredibly beautiful Viennese has all her marbles, it is inconceivable that she would pass up the opportunity of marrying Stewart for the stuffy, pig-pourmanizing book publisher Ian Hunter, plays to the teeth.

SAMPLER PHILOSOPHY

It takes the junky Stewart's grandmother, 35-year-old Adeline de Wolk, Beverly Hills, to set her straight with her 18th century sampler philosophy. One for every occasion. This being Mrs. Reynolds' action, it was hard to kind of the picture, to get along with her hand-drawn samplers.

Anyhow, at long last in the unrelenting Hedy and Jimmy go into an overdrive. And are the customers' demand.

Something quite different and tremendously impressive is "Land of Liberty" and screen document assembled by Carl B. D'Amico from 2,000 hours of film made available by the true pictures, shorts and movies.

It is a story of the building of the American Republic and a portrait of the country's vision and faith of the nation of American men and women that helped make it the land of the free.

ANITA LOUISE who has starring role in "Phantom Submarine" which will be shown on the Gayety screen next week.

2 Film Thrillers On Gayety Bill

"Phantom Submarine" and "Ten Nights in a Barroom" are the Gayety Theater screen features for the next week. The first is a D. W. Griffith picture starring Hal Skelly and reviving for the pleasure of film fans one of the most popular melodramas, or plays with a lesson, ever produced on the stage. Skelly was a great screen favorite when Griffith made the picture about the unfortunate drunkard and his sorrowing wife and child.

Anita Louise and Bruce Bennett play the leads in "Phantom Submarine" which starts as a deep-sea treasure hunt and then takes a foreign spy twist. There is a spectacular climax when a United States destroyer steams into port and smashes the plotters up.

Air Headliners At Keith-Boston

Right out of the Old Town Hall comes Maestro Fred Allen keeps them busy harmonizing, the Martins two cute little girls and their two boy partners, make their bow at the RKO-Boston. The young stars share headline honors with Senator Murphy.

Clever arrangements and good vocalizing put over the opening show solid for the Martins, who choose "Darest, Darest I," "Let's Get Away From It All," the "Chi Chi Can-Can," and the inescapable "Finesse" without which, apparently, singers can't get along these days.

As for the glibulous senator, he's funny, then ever with his pseudo-solomon gaze on every subject from dictators to taxes to the world's state of "chassis." The Murphy hit-and-run become vaudeville classics and he keeps 'em right up to the headlines.

Woody and Betty are the cute pair who open with a whirlwind collaboration act, the Stanley duet, five extremely pretty girls who are up and among the six four-foot beauties, do a fast Conga and end with a provocative can-can dance. The Three Fishermen provide some of the swiftest acrobatics, with comedy you've glimpsed this season.

"Flying Wild" with the Dead End boys up to their shenanigans, is one of the new RKO screen attractions, and coupled with it is "Lil' Abner," based on the comic strip and featuring Granville Owen, Martha O'Driscoll and Edgar Kennedy.

'Garden of Girls' On Howard Stage

For the Old Howard's midnight slow to start a cast of 60 persons will present "Garden of Girls," up-to-the-minute burlesque show. Among the artists are Zorita, Hans, Henry, Maxine DeShone, Pat Paige, Hilly (Hello Jane) Fields, Marion Wakefield, Al Rio, Billy Bianchi & Company, Goodrich and Nelson, Dorothy Wahl, Denny Lyons, Dave and Rite, Bob Alda and Louise Lee.

'THE LADY EVE' IS BEST FILM COMEDY OF YEAR, DECLARES PEGGY DOYLE

New Sturges Hit Opens Met Run

By PEGGY DOYLE

When better comedies are made, Writer-Director Preston Sturges will make 'em, be sure of it. Which is to say that his third and latest Hollywood effort, the Metropolitan's current hit, "The Lady Eve," is easily the comedy of the year. Gay, sparkling, impish, effortless, it is the best pre-spring tonic we can think of, boys and girls.

Sturges ought to start a school for screen writers and directors. But that might not be any good. You can't teach anybody imagination, inventiveness, a comedy sense, any more than you can teach actors how to be as spontaneously tomfoolish and as persuasively, riotously funny as are the picture's co-starring Barbara Stanwyck and Henry Fonda.

These two, aided by a swell supporting cast, put the acting in the 100 per cent class, along with the writing and directing, all of which should add to record-breaking box-office receipts throughout the country for "The Lady Eve."

PLENTY OF MUSTARD

It's the basic story of Eve and the overly tempted Adam but with plenty of English mustard seasoning it to 1941 taste demands.

Stanwyck is the window-trimming for a pair of international card-sharps.

Aboard ship, she resourcefully lures a young millionaire snake expert away from his avocation of social register dobbing and their matrimony-minded mamas.

Adam didn't fall harder, but before the ship docks he learns her actual identity and pretends that he has known all along who she is.

PAID IN OWN COIN

Determined to pay him back in his own coin, she contrives to encounter him at a Long Island house-party as the Lady Eve just arrived in New York from London. She is being perfectly fascinating, enchanting all the old boys at the bar when the young snake expert is introduced.

When he recognizes her, she convinces him it is merely a remarkable coincidence that she resembles the girl he once knew. He is so bewildered he keeps falling all over the place and into everything requiring frequent changes of clothes.

As Fonda does this in his slow-motion, deadpan way, it is so much funnier than it reads you'll have to see it to believe it.

Miss Stanwyck, as the Lady Eve, is surprisingly lovely to look at and irresistibly amusing to listen to. On the same bill is "Murder Among Friends," in which 20th Century-Fox introduces their newest find, Cobina Wright, Jr., New York's attractive social disease who made hosts of friends here during several Ritz Roof engagements.

'Virginia' With Stirling Hayden Now on Scollay, Modern Screen

Stirling Hayden, Boston's own six-foot-four gift to the movies, in the Madeleine Carroll-Fred MacMurray co-starring technicolor production, "Virginia," should mean good box-office at the Scollay and Modern theaters this week.

"Virginia," filmed near Charlottesville, Va., is a modern romance in the fox-hunting country where every man is ever ready to fight or love. Helen Broderick, Marie Wilson and little Carolyn Lee are importantly featured in this streamlined Southern romance.

"Flight From Destiny," the co-feature, stars Geraldine Fitzgerald, Thomas Mitchell, Jeffrey Lynn and James Stephenson in a suspenseful screen drama.

WHEN they came together in Mike Abrams' office to sign articles for their fight, Dancer Dan Sligg, the challenger, stuck out his hand to Mike (Socker) Clegg, the champ.

"No hard feelin's, I hope, Champ," he grinned. His eyes, small and gray and shifty, darted at the taller, slower man, went past him and winked at the newspaper men crowding around the table and came back to Mike again.

"Why should there be?" Mike asked and put out his big fist.

He looked like a man who was tired almost to death of taking the punches that had left their marks all over his face. His nose was flattened against his face and rested there, slightly, askew. His lips were thick and puffy. His eyelids were marked with little crisscrosses. They were the marks of operations performed to remove scar tissue. His left ear was a cauliflower, big and twisted.

"Well, I don't know," Dan explained. "One belin' your sparrin' partner once. You taught me plenty, Mike. I guess you taught me all I know."

"Maybe it'll be enough," Mike's slow smile came then. "Maybe it'll be enough to take the championship from me and give it to you. That would be a funny one, wouldn't it, Dan?"

"Not funny," Dan corrected and his lips hardened. "Just one of the things that happen in this game. It happened before, you know. Jeffries was Corbett's sparrin' partner and he took the championship away from him."

"Yeh," Mike agreed. "That's right. Only Corbett didn't teach Jeffries all he know. Jeffries just happened to be a different kind of fighter."

"Well, you and me's different kinds of fighters," Dan pointed out.

The Cast of Characters in "Not Quite Everything"

DAN, a young boxer, who steals the wife of MIKE, a pugilistic champ who believes in hiding his tins and wasting no words.

Not Quite Everything

By Charles McGuirk

His little gray eyes were beginning to smolder. His mouth twisted a little in a snarl. His good looking, unmarked face thrust forward. "Nobody's ever called me 'Socker'. Me. I like to box."

A CONFIDENT LAD

"I know," Mike said warily. "I'm sorry you mentioned about me and you belin' sparrin' partners. What difference does it make? The way I figure it, let the best man win."

"He will," Dan's grin was secret and malicious. "He will, all right." "Get up and square off at each other, boys," a photographer said, and lifted his camera high and pointed toward them.

Seven other photographers did likewise and the old, marked-up champ and the handsome unmarked challenger got up and fell into their fighting stances while flash bulbs popped and the cameras clicked.

The reporters gathered around the two men and Mike Abrams, the promoter, and asked questions of all three of them. Some of the sports writers were suspicious. This match looked like a barney. It did for a fact, if you checked back on the record.

The record, as it concerned Mike caught him at it. He was the life of the camp.

Mike liked him more than he had ever liked anybody. Though the Champ didn't know it, Dan complemented him as a glove fits a hand. Where Mike was slow and dogged, the kid was fast and fleet. What Mike took a week to learn the kid picked up in a day, in an hour. Dan knew he was good looking. He prided himself on it. He dressed accordingly. Mike, who was not good looking and did not know how to dress, admired and secretly envied him for the possession of these gifts.

Mike was proudest of himself when he introduced Helen Spruce to Dan. Mike was going to marry Helen any day now and he wanted Dan to know that a swell girl like Helen was in love with him. Dan knew it, all right, and appreciated the fact, and Helen, too. His eyes got as big as saucers when he saw her.

The first day he came to Mike and asked if he could take Helen to a show, Mike was tickled to let him. He, himself, was busy getting ready to go deer hunting and Helen was a little sore at him for not paying her more attention. So Dan took her to a show. And he must have taken Mike's permission for granted because he took Helen can't marry any man without him knowing that I—"

Mike was dumb, but not that dumb. He asked her who the man was. But he knew he was Danny. Not that Helen told him. She didn't tell him anything. She just cried.

"All right," he said, though he felt as if somebody'd rapped him one under the heart, "you told me I don't see what that's got to do with us getting married. Wipe your eyes."

So they were married and the subject was never mentioned again. But Mike was just waiting.

AGE VS. YOUTH

That first round was pretty to watch. Dancing Dan was as pretty as a picture as he feinted and danced and weaved and blocked. He sent many a punch whistling at Mike. And all the punches landed. You could hear them all, smack. It was at the end of the seventh round that Mike began to get to Dan. He began to hurt him. And Dan got mad. They went into a clinch. And Dan said:

"All right, Muggs, I'm going to take you and your championship. I took everything else you had. I took your money and I took your girl. But I took more than that. I took every trick you've got. I know them all. You say? You taught me all you know."

And that's what Mike had waited for him to say. He knew it was so but he had wanted complete proof and now he had it from Dan's own lips. But he didn't answer a word. He just tied Dan up and pushed him away. He started to fight in close.

He went into a crouch that Dan had never seen him use before. And when he got in under Dan's guard, he started using the heel of his gloves and the top of his head. He'd bring a glove against Dan's face and twist it and the sweat and blood and grit from it ground into Dan's features.

He jerked Dan's head down with his left once and then brought the top of his head up like a goat butting and Dan's nose smeared over his face and it moved from then on like a thing of rubber because the cartilage was mashed to pulp.

Mike then went to work on both of Dan's ears. He got Dan in position for a knock-out time after time but when he threw his punches, they landed, not on Dan's chin but on one of his ears. And as Mike carried a punch in both hands, Dan's ears went up like balloons.

He knocked Dan's mouthpiece out in the eleventh and then crowded him. He pulled him into a clinch and butted him in the mouth and knocked his front teeth out. Sportswriters noticed that Mike never did throw a punch at Dan's body until the 14 round. And by that time, Dan looked like a gargoyle. And when the bell for the 15th sounded and they met in the center, Mike pulled Dan into another clinch.

"I think," he said, "you're washed up as a fighter. You're washed up as a lady killer, too. And maybe you'll be walking on your heels from the beating I give you tonight. You know why. I'll mention no names. And, listen punk. You got me wrong. I only taught you all YOU know. I didn't teach you all I know. There's a difference. Now, here you go."

He pushed him away and measured him and flattened him.

He was right. You'd never know today that Dan had been a handsome boy. You'd never know he'd been a fighter. Dan doesn't know it himself. He's whacky.

THE END.

and Dan went but three years to the day that Mike began training for his fight with Stanley Pulaski, which was his first after winning the championship. On that day, Pat Sheridan, his trainer, picked Dancing Dan Sligg—who was no dancing fighter but just a kid chopping block—spar with Mike for ten dollars a day and cakes.

What Sheridan saw when he hired him and that Mike Clegg saw when the kid climbed through the ropes to him, was a very good looking boy who had a nice, shifty way of handling himself in the ring and a rough clowning sense of humor. Yeh. The kid was a card. He could give you a hot foot while you were looking straight at him. He put his bricks in under the sheets of the fighters' cots. He would cheat you blind at rummy and squawk murder when you

"I think you'd better set the date of our wedding, Hon. Make it soon, will you? I want us to be married. I need a girl as sweet as you. I—I guess I love you, Kild."

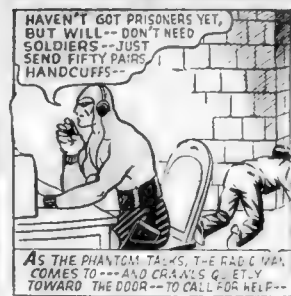

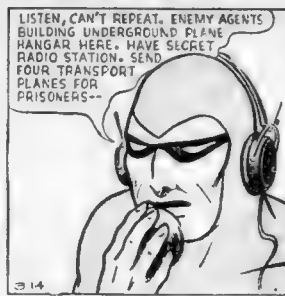

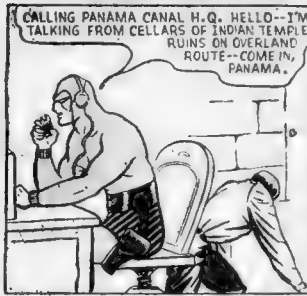

And Helen looked at him and her face melted and she cried like a kid cries, without shame and with no attempt to hide it.

"I can't marry you," she said. "I

44 MYERS VISITS HEIGHTS TO SIGN 2-YR. CONTRACT

EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1941

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS EDWARD MYERS
Stream of Congratulations Keeps Their Phone Busy

Boston College's brand new head coach of football, Dennis Edward "Denny" Myers, arrived at the Heights this morning to sign a contract which will seal him to the Chestnut Hill school for the next two years.

Myers, a 35-year-old blond giant who was born in Algona, Iowa, attended the high school of that town, graduated from the University of Iowa in 1930, but made his coaching reputation in the East, was appointed by the Advisory Board on Athletics, after a number of meetings held since Frank Leahy resigned on Feb. 14.

The appointment was confirmed by the Very Rev. William J. Murphy, S. J., president of the college, who ever since Leahy left for Notre Dame has been insistent that the new coach be completely free from contractual agreement with any other college. Myers, who was assistant to D'Ormond "Tuss" McLaughry at Brown during the past five years resigned from the Providence school, March 1.

BOTH FROM PROVIDENCE

John P. Curley, graduate manager of athletics at Boston College, after congratulating Myers by telephone at the latter's home in Providence, announced the name of the new coach to a waiting newspaper world.

The new Eagle head mentor was to meet with Capt.-Elect Al Morro and members of the Boston College squad this morning at the Heights, Capt.-Elect Morro, big tackle, and a Providence boy has known his new boss for the past couple of years.

Late this afternoon Graduate Manager of Athletics Curley was to formally introduce Coach Myers to the Boston newspapermen at a luncheon at a Boston hotel.

Questioned at his home the new coach of Boston College grid destinies expressed "gratification" and "enthusiasm" over his new assignment.

"Denny" has never been a head coach. After graduating from Iowa he coached high school football in Irontown, Ohio, for two years before he joined Earle P. "Grassy" Neale at West Virginia in 1932. When Neale went to Yale in 1934 Myers went along. In 1936 Myers joined McLaughry at Brown. From that time on the Bruins lines assumed new found power, poise and finesse. You guessed it, Myers was the tutor.

TO PICK OWN STAFF

When Myers was notified of his new appointment he was elated.

"This is just the chance I have been waiting for," he stated. "I am deeply gratified and will do my level best to justify the confidence placed in me."

"I will start spring practice just as soon as a few minor details are ironed out—if the weatherman will throw a little co-operation my way."

Myers will be permitted to select his assistant coaches. The new coach expects to have his staff settled by the latter part of next week.

Though he isn't a "Notre Dame" coach, Myers feels that the Boston College boys will have little trouble adjusting themselves to the system which he will employ next fall.

"I expect no trouble from the shift in 'system'" said the successor to Francis William Leahy, "for the boys will be working with a 'system' which is basically the same as the one used so successfully last season by Leahy."

"As a matter of fact the only real difference between the two 'systems' is the name, Leahy, a graduate of Notre Dame, used the so-called Notre Dame system, I'll employ the same balanced line and a single wing formation—and let the newspapermen name it."

Myers, who works his plays from the T-formation used so successfully by Leahy, by the Clark Shaughnessy coached Stanford Indians, by the professional Chicago Bears and others, was more than a line coach at Brown, Denny is given credit for much of the floss shown in the Brown offense last year.

GOES IN FOR COLOR

"Denny" assisted "Tuss" with the coaching of the College All-Star team which upset the famed New York Giants in late summer last year. Much of the colorful attack employed by the collegians to bamboozle the pros in that game was credited to the active imagination of the new Boston College coach. Accordingly followers of Boston College football can expect to see a continuation of the colorful kind

Leahy Wishes Myers Success

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 14 (AP)—Frank Leahy, new Notre Dame football coach, last night wished Dennis Myers, his successor at Boston College, "as much happiness as I had there."

Informed of Myers' appointment, Leahy said:

"It may surprise you, but I never have had the privilege of meeting Myers. However, from what I have heard he seems to possess every necessary requisite for a successful head coach.

"He will find a swell group of athletes to work with, and a grand spirit."

"I wish him all kinds of success and I hope he has as much happiness at Boston College as I did."

Leahy was at Boston College for two years.

Flat Feet Ban Army For Greenberg; Hank To Get $50,000 in '41

DETROIT, March 14 (AP)—The Detroit News said today that a Selective Service board examining physician at Lakeland, Fla., has declared Hank Greenberg, the American League's most valuable player last season, unfit for more than limited army service because of his flat feet.

Dr. Grover C. Freeman of Lakeland was quoted by the News as saying he has recommended to Greenberg's Detroit draft board that the big Detroit Tiger outfielder be placed in the 1-B classification.

Board officials here said today they have not yet received the physician's medical report on Greenberg, and that if they were not satisfied with it they could order a second physical examination for him here before acting on his case.

They pointed out that no selectees of 1-B classification have yet been sent into service from this area. Greenberg, the news reported today, signed his 1941 playing contract last night "for a reported sum of $50,000."

A long telephone conversation with Walter O. Briggs, Detroit Baseball Club owner, at Miami Beach, preceded the contract signing, the News said. Greenberg's reported salary was described by the dispatch as the highest ever set for a player by the Detroit club and "the highest player salary in baseball history with the exception of 'Babe' Ruth's $80,000 in 1930 and 1931."

The previous high Detroit salary was said to be that of former Player-Manager Mickey Cochrane, whose contract was reported to call for $45,000 a year.

Rindge Wins Opening Game

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 14 (AP)—The New England interscholastic basketball tournament swung into its second day of play today with southern New England teams out in front.

Windham High of Williamstown, Ct., eliminated Edward Little High of Auburn, Me., 45-22; Bristol, Ct., beat Burlington, Vt., 29-16, and Pawtucket West High won over Northampton, Mass., 35-23 yesterday.

Rindge Tech of Cambridge, Mass., scored a 28-13 win over Manchester's Central High to complete the rout of the northern teams.

The two Connecticut teams will meet in one semi-final tonight while Rindge Tech and Pawtucket West will tangle in the other. The winners will meet for the title tomorrow night.

Bostrom to Coach Chicago Black Hawks

CHICAGO, March 14 (AP)—Maj. Frederick McLaughlin, owner of the Chicago Blackhawks hockey club, said today that Helge Bostrom, one time Hawks defense star, has been engaged as coach and assistant to manage Paul Thompson.

Bostrom, who has been operating a resort near Hibbing, Minn., is to come here next week and remain with the Hawks through the Stanley Cup playoffs, in which Chicago will meet the Montreal Canadiens.

MATTY'S INJURED SON BACK IN AIR CORPS

45

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—Christy Mathewson, Jr., son of the baseball immortal and in his own right a crack Army flier, is back in the Air Corps, but he has to be content with a swivel chair instead of a pilot's cockpit.

He lost a leg in a crash in China after a brief career as a soldier of fortune, helping train young Chinese aviators to fight Japan.

The Air Corps put him to work this week as an aeronautical specialist helping keep records of a joint aircraft committee for the Army, Navy and the British purchasing mission.

Husky, smiling and alert, he still can fly, but any air travel he may do for the Army will be as a passenger. He proved his disability was not complete, however, by a single solo flight since the 1933 crackup in China in which his bride met death and he was gravely injured.

Inspired to become an aviator by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's 1927 transatlantic flight, young Mathew-son won his Army pilot's wings the next year and flew for the Air Corps for two years and a half until he was retired from active service because of lack of War Department funds.

With a group of other American pilots, he went to China to serve as an instructor at a Chinese Nationalist government school at Hangchow, China. The "boss" was Col. John H. Jouett, now president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

REPORT CLARK HODDER OUT AS HARVARD HOCKEY COACH

Clark Hodder may be through as Harvard hockey coach, it was reported today.

For the last two years the Cantabs have occupied the cellar spot in the Squad League.

This year the Harvard six registered wins over Williams and Army and dropped 14 games, plus a tie contest with an unusually weak Dartmouth team.

Hodder had the misfortune to assume the head coaching position just when the material began to run thin Harvard, up till this year, hadn't defeated Yale in freshman hockey for four years. The present freshman team at Harvard is good.

There is a chance that the Harvard A. A. officials will scan the pro ranks for a coach. Yale has had great success with Murray Murdoch, former N. Y. Rangers star, as coach.

Football—Coach Dick Harlow and his aides will assemble their aspirants at the Briggs cage Monday afternoon, and after a session with the cameramen, Harlow will begin his hunt for a new backfield to take the place of Spryer, Vander Eb and Lee, all of whom will probably be doing their stuff for Uncle Sam. Spryer and Vander Eb are definitely lost to the team and Franny Lee reports that he has a low number and fears that he will be called this summer.

Dick Harlow had been planning to build his entire attack for next year around the great pair of Spryer and Lee, but it will have to remain only a dream. Red McNicol—a soph and freshman star, and Wayne Johnson are the leading contenders for Spryer's position. Gordie Lyle and Cleo O'Donnell will fight for Lee's berth.

GIRL KEGLERS RUSH ENTRIES FOR TOURNEY

A most unusual feature of the now famed American-Record New England candle-pin bowling tournament is the increased interest of women keglers year after year.

The coming sixth annual classic which starts at the Huntington Club two weeks from tomorrow, March 29, and continues through to April 12, will have just as many if not more women contestants than ever before in the history of the tournament.

The growth of feminine interest and activity in sports during the past few years has been little short of amazing.

In many of the sports, though, it has been hard for the fair sex to compete with men, but mixed bowling has grown with leaps and bounds in view of the fact that a great many women have shown unusual adeptness to the candlepin sport.

REMARKABLE FIGURES

Take last year for example. Leona Harris of Derry, N. H., won the women's amateur singles with a three-string total of 338 which is pretty bowling in any league; in the women's doubles, Marion S. Pearce and Marion E. Frost, both from Waltham, had a total of 610 for their combined six strings; the Haverhill City Alleys rolled 1435 for their team total while Dorothy Yando, the Fitchburg High School marvel, duplicated her previous year's win with a 3-string total of 293 in the high school singles championship.

Or c'urse, these figures do not compare with some of the totals compiled by the men champions but they would have been unbelievable only a few years ago.

RECORDS IN DANGER

Jack Stafford, president of the New England Bowling Association and proprietor of the Huntington Alleys who has seen many a bowler down through the past years, said last night:

"I expect to see a number of the women's records broken before this tournament is over. In my travels throughout this part of the country during the past year, I have seen some great bowling on the part of women.

"Year after year, the newly crowned champions have bettered the marks of the previous champs and this year should be no exception.

"Many of them take this sport as seriously as the men and they fume and fret over a missed spare or strike just as though a title was continually at stake.

"If anyone thinks last winter's scores were high for girls, young and old, just watch them at the coming tournament."

Dom Di Maggio Makes Florida's Greatest Catch

SARASOTA, March 14—Dom Di Maggio made the greatest catch in Grapefruit League history as the Red Sox dropped their second decision in a week to the World Champion Cincinnati Reds, this time by a 3-1 count.

Jimmy Gleeson of the Reds caught hold of one of Jack Wilson's pitches in the sixth inning and drove it far over Di Maggio's head in deep centerfield.

It looked like a certain homerun but somehow the fleet-footed Di Maggio raced back to the 500-foot marker, stuck up his gloved hand, and the ball lodged therein.

It was the Sox only bright spot for they could get only five hits off the three Cincinnati hurlers. Junior Thompson, Whitey Moore and Joe Eggs.

MYERS VISITS B. C. TODAY TO SIGN CONTRACT of gridiron warfare waged by the undefeated, untitled national championship Eagle squad of last season.

Myers has but one regret as he prepares to assume the job of coaching the Chestnut Hill collegians. He'd like to have Charlie O'Rourke around for just one more season.

Yes, "Denny" has heard of Harry "Mickey Himself" Connolly. "But imagine having O'Rourke and Connolly on the same squad," says Myers. "I've seen the pictures of the Sugar Bowl game and they (O'Rourke and Connolly) were terrific."

In personality Myers is somewhat similar to the man he succeeds at Boston College.

POPULAR AT BROWN

Leahy is the "hall fellow, well met" type. So is Head Coach Myers. Carefully kept records of the Brown A. A. indicate that he has made more than 350 addresses and talks on football during the past five years. In this work he has come in contact with all types of people and inevitably he has made a most favorable impression. He is ranked as one of the most talented speakers in the land by his fellow coaches.

The former citizen of Algonia, La., is a popular figure in Providence. When McLaughry resigned the head coaching portfolio at Brown 900 students out of a body of 1400 signed a petition requesting the job be given to Myers. Denny raised out on that occasion—but that's another story.

John P. Curley, Boston College's graduate manager, expressed himself as very much pleased with the choice of Denny Myers as the new head man of the Eagles.

Curley said: "We have brought to a happy close our long quest for a football coach here at Boston College. "Right from the start Denny Myers has had a lot of support for the head coaching position. I have known him personally for a number of years and have always had the highest respect for him. He has been well regarded in coaching circles not only by the men who coached with him but also by the men whose teams opposed him.

"We have had the highest possible recommendations from some of the biggest men in the coaching profession and after careful consideration of his qualifications we decided that Myers was the man whom we wished.

"I feel that he will do an outstanding job here at Boston College, for he has all of the necessary qualifications. He is a very capable person off the field as well as during the hours that he coaches the players.

B's at Peak For Playoffs

48
1941
MARCH 14
EVENING

Half a dozen games remain to be played up in the National Hockey League before the schedule closes next Tuesday, but all of them might as well be swept aside and the locks cleared for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The last uncertainties were solved last night when the Bruins crushed the Americans, 5-2, to clinch first place for the third straight year and the Detroit Redwings subdued the Chicago Blackhawks, 3-2, to nail down third place.

With this business out of the way, the games that are left cannot change the positions in the standings and President Frank Calder already has announced arrangements for the opening playoffs starting next Thursday.

OPENER THURSDAY

Series A, best of seven games, will open that night with second place Toronto at Boston. The teams then will play again March 22 at Boston, March 23 at Toronto, March 27 at Toronto, March 29 at Boston, April 1 at Toronto, and April 3 at Boston—or as many of these dates as are needed to settle the issue.

Series B, best of three games, will bring together the fourth place New York Rangers and the Wings at Detroit, March 20, with subsequent contests at New York March 23, and at Detroit March 25.

Series C, also best of three matches, Montreal's sixth place Blackhawks and the fifth place Blackhawks at Chicago March 20 at Montreal March 22, and at Chicago March 24.

The contest in Series B and C then will play for the right to meet the Series A winners for the Stanley Cup.

BRUINS RED HOT

Boston, although winning the league championship on the basis of record in season play last year, saw the Stanley Cup go to the Rangers. This time, however, the Bruins are coming up to the playoffs at the peak of their form and will be overwhelming favorites to regain the top honor in hockey.

They were invincible in beating the Americans last night and lost only one of their last 30 games. They took a two-goal lead in the first period against the Americans, and after New York hopelessly tied the count in the second stanza they cleaned up the ice with the league's collar club.

Five of the Boston goals were tallied in a whirlwind final period.

The game at Detroit was bitterly fought but a goal by Bill Jennings in the last two minutes of play decided the battle in the Wings' favor.

College Matmen Compete Today

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—A three-ring circus, the annual championships of the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Ass'n., moved into Columbia University's gymnasium today for a two-day stay, with 10 rivals bidding for Lehigh's team title.

Capt. Bob Eberle of Princeton at 128 pounds and Bill Levering of Penn at 134 pounds were back to defend their individual crowns. Penn, Penn State and Yale were regarded the strongest contenders for Lehigh's championship, but teams also were entered from Princeton, Harvard, Army, Navy, Syracuse, Columbia and Cornell.

DANGER AHEAD—There's danger threatening Bruin Bill Cowley, left, as he tries to whirl through Rhys Thomson, No. 9, and Buzz Boll, No. 10, of Americans in New York Garden. They halted high-scoring Bill, but Bruins won, 8 to 3, to clinch N. H. L. title.

BEES START INVASION OF MEXICO

By BILL GRIMES

LAREDO, Tex., March 14—After a pleasant trip on the Pan-American highway from San Antonio, the two streamlined cruisers which are carrying the Bees to Monterrey, slipped into this border town this morning.

There are 25 ball players on the trip and the rest of the party, which numbers 56, comprised of newspapermen, coaches, players' wives and rooters.

At the last moment, President Bob Quinn decided against going to Mexico. He has some very important business coming up tomorrow and felt that he should remain at San Antonio. So Mrs. Quinn and her two daughters, Mary and Margaret cancelled their reservations.

The St. Louis Browns entered Mexico last night. It was so cold in San Antonio that Manager Fred Haney was obliged to call off the practice session, so in order not to lose two days, he mustered his players together, piled them into a bus and off they went for Monterrey.

The Brown's No. 2 bus, with the Mound City scribes and the club officials are behind us, and is expected to arrive here before we get through the Mexican customs.

TO PUT ROSS' LEG IN CAST

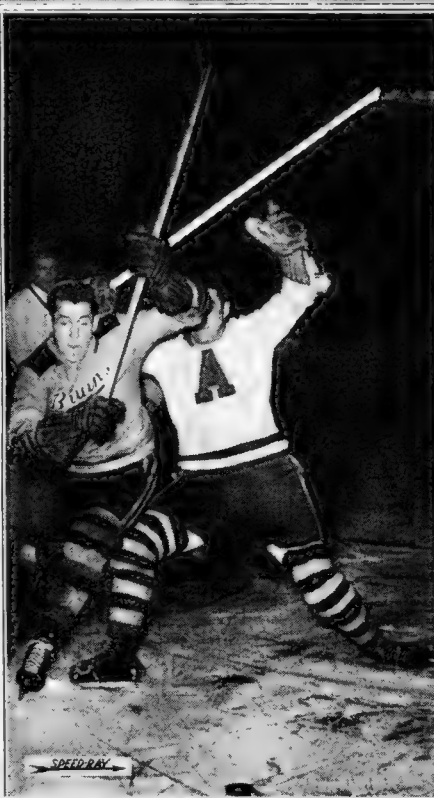

Manager Casey Stengel left Jack Onslow, manager of the Hartford club, and Rudie Hulsitt, who will handle the Bridgeport team in the Inter-State League, behind with 15 players.

George Barnicle, Eddie Carnett, Tom Earley, Art Johnson, Joe Rucido, Bob Williams and Warren Spahn are the pitchers who'll work out at San Antonio under Onslow and Hulsitt. The other stay-at-homes are Stan Andrews and John Statts, George Melkovich, Frank McElwee, Ralph Younker, Buster Bray, Mel Prebisch, and Claude Aburn.

Chet Ross is still in the Santa Rosa Hospital, where the cast will be put on his injured leg today and Johnny Cooney is confined to his room at the Plaza Hotel with a heavy cold.

McCREARY ABOARD THREE 'REAL THINGS'

The Kentucky Derby never fails to claim the cream of the nation's 3-year-olds, but this year the nominations appear to cover the field more completely than ever before.

Of the first 10 2-year-olds of 1940, every one has been nominated except Level Best, whose owner has reached the conclusion filly haven't a chance to win a distance race in the springtime.

The other top-notch juveniles of 1941 year were Whirlaway, Our Boots, Bold Irishman, Blue Fair, H.K. Cole, Little Boats, Monday Lunch, Harvard Square and New World.

In addition the Derby has drawn all but two of the starters in the Santa Anita Derby and all but one of the field in the Flaming Stakes.

Wendell Eads, the jockey who was critically hurt in a spill at Tropical Park in one of the worst racing accidents of the Florida season, was discharged from the hospital yesterday. He will remain in Miami to recuperate until the Calumet Farm moves its string to Kentucky and resume his riding when the Blue Grass season opens.

Geneva Cross is an old horse with no need to fear the future. The nine-year-old son of Snob II is ready to be retired and owner Jake Freedman already has arranged for him to spend his remaining days in ease.

In his prime Geneva Cross won consistently in high class company and has continued his career successfully in cheap claiming races recently. Trainer Bert Pomeroy is attached to him and treats him with the same consideration as a stakes performer and Freedman has put aside a sum of money to pay for the horse's care at a stable.

Tropical stewards fined Jockey Red Howell $100 for not holding Mill Tower to a straight course in the stretch of the third race.

Mr. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

GEORGE FREEMAN OF the Irish American A. A. sent me the following crisp wire after witnessing the Golden Glove finals in the New York Garden:

"Lester McGowan of Buffalo hit of Golden Glove show while winning 118-pound title. Looked as impressive as he did in All-America finals and in inter-city show in Boston. All-America crowd in Boston larger than Golden Glove turnout which was a near capacity affair. Will week-end with Congressman John McCormack of South Boston in Washington, but will be back in Boston for the New England amateur championships at the Garden on Monday night."

The New York show also saw Diogenes Leon, Puerto Rico and another All-America champion, winning in the 112-pound class. Leon tosses gloves faster than any flyweight to box to the front in the amateur ranks in recent years.

The sensational success scored by McGowan in the All-America and in the New York show beat out the contention of Boxing Commissioner Sam Smith that boxing is all right when the public is offered the right kind of show.

In his first Boston appearance, McGowan won the crowd inside of a minute. His amazing speed and boxing ability made this baby faced youngster the darling of the crowd.

Persons interested in the future of Boston boxing have been making efforts to get McGowan to make his home here. The more youthful Irish-American glove finger should remain in the amateurs for at least two or three more years. In this way, he will gain greater experience, and will also take less chances of injury.

Many amateur boxers make the mistake of entering the professional ranks before their bodies are built up to a point where they can absorb the gruelling punishment one must expect to receive from pro rivals.

Lou Wertheimer of Buffalo has played the most important role in the development of McGowan.

"Like most boxers who become champions," Wertheimer told me when here for the All-America bouts, "McGowan was a natural from the time he started boxing. He boxed correctly from instinct, and all that it was necessary for me to do was to polish up the youngster's style."

"Lester likes to fight, while he does not wear himself out worrying about a match before it takes place. Like Joe Louis, he relaxes easily, and does not burn up energy until the gong sounds for the start of his bout."

"I'm going to go slowly with McGowan. It would be silly to rush such a promising looking youngster to the front too rapidly. I'll make a bet of a hat with anyone who wishes to take it that Lester will become a professional champion in time if he does not meet with a mishap."

It is likely that McGowan will show in Boston before the indoor amateur boxing season closes at an inter-city show to be sponsored by the Irish American A. A.

32 Boxers in N. E. Title Ring Finals

THE NEXT HIGH spot in amateur boxing will be the New England A. A. U. amateur boxing finals that will be held at the Garden on Monday night. There will be 24 bouts, and it is expected that they will be jammed with thrills.

Three hundred boxers competed in the trial bouts from which the contestants for Monday night's show were named. This indicates that the survivors possess plenty of class to come through such tough competition undefeated.

Francis Leonard, 126 pounds, and Dick Andrews, 147 pounds, distinguished themselves in the All-America tournament. Leonard formerly used to box as a bantamweight, but moved into the featherweight division this year, and has scored numerous ring successes.

Andrews has the most perfect build of any of the New England amateur boxers. He reached the final show of the All-America tournament only to be defeated after a torrid session. Andrews has shown improvement with each bout, and expects to win the New England welterweight title.

Gene Driscoll, chairman of the boxing committee of the New England A. A. U., says that the winner of the title bouts will automatically qualify for the national A. A. U. championships that will be held in this city on March 31, April 1 and 2.

DAVIDSON'S LOOP AVOIDS LANDIS RULE

Organization of an Independent New England Baseball League was announced today by Claude Davidson of Dennisport, who has been chosen president and secretary-treasurer.

Davidson said that franchises have been awarded to the Eugene B. Fraser Club of Lynn, the Roche Club of Lawrence, the Fore River Club of Quincy, the Norstone of Worcester and to representatives of Fall River, Pawtucket, R. I., and Cranston, R. I. The eighth franchise was left to Davidson's discretion.

Davidson first attempted to set up a circuit that would come under the supervision of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. Those he approached, however, were unwilling to invest as heavily as organized baseball demands because of present conditions.

The new league, which will open on May 20 and close on Labor Day, will operate under lights and the playoff system will be used to determine the championship. Players will be recruited from the college and industrial ranks.

Neighborhood Rivals Top Bill in Madison Garden

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Neighborhood fights don't often get the spotlight and gate receipts of Madison Sq. Garden, but a couple of kids from the Bronx are going to get both tonight with the promotional blessing of Mike Jacobs.

The lads are Steve Beloise and Tami Mauriello, both leading contenders for the world middleweight championship, who will meet in a 10-round test for a possible shot at Ken Overlin's title.

Bits Bierhalter, Ex-Sox Trainer, Dies

COLUMBUS, O., March 14 (INS)—Columbus sports fans today mourned the death of William (Bits) Bierhalter, 71, who died of a cerebral hemorrhage suffered Wednesday night. He formerly umpired in the American Assn., International League, New York State League and Ohio State League and at one time served as trainer for the Boston Red Sox and the St. Louis Browns.

Weymouth Matmen Win Four Matches

Weymouth High, interscholastic wrestling champions for the past two years, came through with four wins yesterday afternoon in the first eliminations of a three-day tournament in the Cousins gymnasium at Tufts.

Nine high schools and academies are competing, including Needham, Roxbury Latin, Perkins Institute, Quincy Trade, Haverhill, Quincy High, Belmont, Weymouth and Milton Academy.

Settlement House Joust on Saturday

The basketball championship of Boston settlement house teams will be played between teams from Norfolk House Center and Cambridge Community Center, both members of the Community Fund, at 2 p. m. Saturday in the gymnasium of South End Boys' Club, Washington and East Canton sts.

Havana Dancer Threatens to Sue Dodger Hurler

HAVANA, March 14 (INS)—Van Lingle Mungo, bad-boy pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who was fined $200 and banned from the training camp last Sunday for drinking, was in bad again today when a Latin dancer threatened to sue him for $100,000 here, stating he found his wife in Mungo's hotel room and that Mungo beat him up. Mungo is now training with the Dodgers farm club, Montreal.

Pics Eye Fourth Place

Skating as they haven't skated in over a month, the Olympics are eyeing fourth place in the Eastern League standing as they prepare for the Baltimore Orioles and the River Vale Skaters invasion of the Garden tomorrow night and Sunday afternoon.

The Boston array really hit their stride in River Vale Wednesday night as they won their first victory of the year on Westwood, N. J. ice, and by the shutout route at that.

Couch Harrington appears to have hit upon the right combination in teaming Johnnie Fitzgerald with the two B. C. kids, Ray Chasson and Al "Fishy" Dumont. This trio carried the play for the locals against the Skaters, and although they notched but one score in New Jersey, they handled the offensive load most of the evening.

N. E. Catholic Fives Open Title Tourney With Four Preims

By SAM BROGNA

The first of the three-day eighth annual Catholic basketball tournament was to get under way today at the Arena with a quartet of preliminary games.

St. Mary's of Waltham, runner-up to Our Lady's of Newton in the Southern Division of the Greater Boston League, but gainers of a berth in this tournament by defeating both Cathedral runner-up in the Northern Division, and Our Lady's opens the first preliminary round with John Baptist of Bangor, Me., starting at 4 o'clock. The other afternoon game brings together St. John's of Worcester and St. Joseph's of Manchester, N. H., at 5:15 p. m. Lynn St. Mary's, favorite to win the title now held by De La Salle of Newport, R. I., meets Holy Family of New Bedford at 8 o'clock tonight with defending champs De La Salle and St. Michael's from Burlington, Vt., to follow at 9:15.

Waltham's representatives, winners of 12 out of 16 games during the past season, takes on a Bangor quintet that has a similar record—15 wins against five defeats.

Not too much is known of the Pine Tree State team, but any school that can win the Eastern Maine crown must have some kind of a basketball team. So nothing of the pushover assortment is in line for the Watch City lads.

LYNN MEETS HOLY FAMILY
The other matinee melee, Worcester's St. John's appears to have the edge so far as records go. In tucking away the Central Catholic League title, this aggregation won 14 and dropped but 2 and scored 623 points to the opposition's 362.

The New Hampshire basketballers aren't so far behind, having won the same number of games but were on the short end four times. But in playing two more games than their opponents, they were able to score three points less as to 431 chalked up by the other teams.

Coach Bill Kennedy's St. Mary's of Lynn, Greater Boston League title holders, tackles the Narragansett League champions and winners of the Southeastern tournament in the Holy Family five of New Bedford.

The Cape boys went through their league schedule undefeated, winning seven and then went on to hang up four more wins against three losses. In the fourteen games played, they scored 412 points with 34 for their opponents.

The Lynn quintet rolled up 761 points in nineteen games, not counting the exhibition with St. Joseph's a few nights back. 422 were made against it.
